I-J's 109th Anniversary

By DOROTHY GARDINER

The Marin County Journal, the pioneering newspaper and ancestor of today's Independent-Journal hit the San Rafael streets for the first time 109 years ago today.

The four-page weekly, run off by hand on a Washington press, was pressed out on Saturdays to a handful of Marin's 3,334 settlers over a table in the dining room of the San Rafael Hotel.

After outliving many publishers and surviving 87 years of fierce newspaper rivalry, the Journal merged on Nov. 30, 1948 with the San Rafael Independent.

Today some 44,000 copies of the Independent-Journal are delivered daily to Marin and Southern Sonoma County homes, with 385 copies mailed across the country and overseas.

Editors and reporters furnish readers with complete county coverage and world-wide news wired into the newsroom by three press wire services minutes after its happening. Several mail services also keep readers up to date.

A 250-ton Hoe Colormatic press capable of turning out 70,000 papers an hour is housed in the multi-million dollar I-J plant. This press can produce an 80-page paper with color in a single run.

With 189 employees on the payroll, the I-J has become one of the county's largest employers.

The newspaper and the county both have come a long way since Printer Jerome Barney founded the Journal in a dingy San Rafael room on March 23, 1861.

Barney, apprenticed as a printer in Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., followed his 49er father Judge Ai Barney, to San Rafael in 1853. He worked in his father's butcher shop until persuading the Judge to become a silent partner in the publication of the county's first newspaper.

The Journal was published by Barney and an apprentice

FANCIES.
BY ENA.
When the dim twilight shadows
Fling round us a veil,
And the song of the night-birds
Swell out on the gale;
When the stars,—far more bright
Than the gems in a crown—
And the goddess of Night
Send their radiance down;
When all Nature's beauties,
Are softened by gloom,
And the roses are known,
Only by their perfume;
Then, strange dreamy fancies
Flit by on the breeze,
And the wind as it sighs
Thro' the tall forest trees,
Whispers tales of a home
In a far sunny land,
Where Sorrow and Love,
Never walk hand in hand,
Ah! such dreams how they haunt us,
How they fling 'round the heart,
Their strange, weird spells,
With a sorcerer's art.

For the "Journal."
A Chapter of Occult History.
A very curious, if not extraordinary case, has recently come to light, and is now engaging the attention of the courts in Great Britain. We condense the facts, and present the principal points to our readers. The title of the suit is "Byres vs The Attorney General." To the American reader it can be important only as a gem in English History, probably suppressed intentionally by the historians of that country, and because it lifts a corner of the veil that conceals the pool of royal profligacy which characterized the period in which the events occured. The facts are as follows:

Lavina Janette Horton Ryves, (such is the fair plaintiff's name,) filed her petition in the Court of Ordinary, claiming to be Princess of Cumberland and Duchess of Lancaster, as the granddaughter and lineal representative in the female line of his royal highness, Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, who died intestate in the year 1790.—It appears that on the 4th day of March 1767, his Royal Highness Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, the brother of George the Third, was married at the house of Lord Archer in London, to Olive, the daughter of the Rev. Dr. James Wilmot, who was at the time highly honored in court. This lady, Olive, was the daughter of a private marriage contracted by Dr. Wilmot with a Polish princess, daughter of Stanislaus, King of Poland. Miss Wilmot having found favor in the eyes of the Duke of Cumberland, he offered his hand and was accepted. The ceremony was performed by the lady's father, Dr. Wilmot, and was attended by King George the Third, the celebrated Earl of Chatham (William Pitt), the Earl of Warwick, and Lord Archer, in whose house the marriage took place. The certificate of this marriage as produced in court, duly attested, reads as follows:

"I hereby certify that I married Henry Frederick Duke of Cumberland, "to Olive Wilmot, March 4, 1767, "such marriage having been duly solemnized according to the rites and "ceremonies of the Church of England. (Signed) J. Wilmot, (Signed) "George R.
"Chatham.
"I witnessed such marriage,
(Signed)
"Warwick."

On the 2nd day of October 1771, four years after his marriage with Olive Wilmot, the Duke of Cumberland, his first wife being still alive, contracted a marriage with Lady Anne Horton, daughter of the Earl of Carthampton. This last marriage was never recognized by the King, nor was the ever received at court.

On the 3d day of April 1772, Olive, the lawful wife of the Duke of Cumberland, and was declared by the Earl of Warwick; but was afterwards re-baptized by directions of the King, so that she might pass as the child of Robert Wilmot. Mr. Dunning, afterwards created Lord Ashburton, wrote in relation to the matter thus:

"I declare the Duke of Cumberland's "marriage with Olive Wilmot to be "legal, by command of the King."—

His majesty also made a provision of £500 a year for the infant daughter of the marriage, "until a more suitable "provision could be made for her."—The King afterwards issued the following:

"George R.—We declare the birth "of Olive, the infant of the Duke of "Cumberland, by Olive his Duchess, "to be legitimate, who is condemned to "privacy by the act of bigamy committed by her royal father.
(Signed) "Chatham.
"Dunning.
(Signed) "Warwick,
"J. Wilmot."

The marriage of the Duke was kept secret, and the child, Olive, passed as the child of Mr. Robert Wilmot, and resided with her grand-father, Dr. Wilmot, at "Barton on the Heath," until her marriage with one John Thomas Serres in 1792. She remained ignorant of her royal birth until 1815, when the secret was revealed to her by the Earl of Warwick.

The proofs further show that George the Third in his will bequeaths,—to "Olive, our brother of Cumberland's "daughter, the sum of £15,000, com-"manding our heir and successor to "pay the same privately, to our said "niece, for her use, as a recompense "for the misfortunes she may have "known through her father."

Lord Warwick made the Duke of Kent acquainted with the facts, who afterwards recognized Mrs. Serres as his cousin. His Royal Highness, when on his death bed, wrote thus:

"Should I not recover, I recom-"mend my dear cousin Olive to my "wife, who will, for my sake, love and "serve her until she recovers her loyal "rights. I solemnly recommend my "daughter to revere the Princess Olive "of Cumberland for my sake.
"Edward."

And again—

"If this paper meets my dear Alex-"andrina's eye, my dear cousin Olive "will present it, whom my daughter "will, for my sake, I hope, love and "serve, should I depart this life.
"Edward."

The petitioner, Lavina, J. H. Reves claims as the eldest surviving daughter of this Mr. Serres, and Olive, called Wilmot, but as it really appears, the Duchess of Cumberland and Lancaster; and seeks to recover the revenues, on account of her mother and herself to the amount of £100,644, and also £105,320, as a bequest from the royal family of England.

Serres, the father of the petitioner was marine draughtsman to George the Third, to the Admiralty, and to the then Duke of Clarence—he was also employed under Nelson at Copenhagen and Trafalgar.

It appears further in the case that her father and mother seperated in 1803—that she lived with her mother until her marriage. Certificates of the marriage of her mother with Serres, and of herself with Ryves were also exhibited. The parents of the claimant seperated, and her own husband abandoned her more than twenty years ago, leaving six children, whom she has creditably supported ever since.

There are many other minor details corroborative of the main facts which are interesting, but which we must omit for want of space. Suffice it to say, that the court before which the case is pending, has clearly intimated the right of the petitioner to the claims which she has advanced; and little remains but to pronounce judgment in her favor. Is not this the romance of History?

☞The Austin Intelligencer, has been permitted to publish the following extract from a letter written by General Houston to an old friend, which defines his position thus;

"You say it is reported that I am for secession. Ask those who say so to point to a word of mine authorizing the statement. I have declared myself in favor of peace, of harmony, of compromise, in order to obtain a fair expression of the will of the people. Dangerous as may be the precedent inaugurated by the Convention, before the majesty of the law, which recognizes its power to submit the question of disunion to the people, I yield in the same spirit that actuated Andrew Jackson in paying the fine arbitrarily imposed on him at New Orleans. I am determined that those who would overthrow law shall learn no lesson from me. I still believe that secession will bring ruin and civil war. Yet if the people will, I can bear it with them. I would fain not be declared an alien from my native home in old Virginia, to the scenes of my early toils and triumphs in noble Tennessee. I would not, of my own choice, give up the banner beneath which I have fought; the Constitution which I have revered, or the Union which I have loved and cherished as the glorious priceless heritage bequeathed me by my fathers.

Sixty-seven years of freedom, the recollections of past triumphs and sufferings, the memories of heroes whom I have seen and known, and whose venerated shades would haunt my footsteps were I to falter now, may perhaps have made me too devoted to the Constitution and the Union, but be it so. Did I believe that liberty and the rights of the South demanded the sacrifice, I would not hesitate. I believe that less concession than was necessary to frame the Constitution will now preserve it.

Thus believing, I cannot vote for secession. I have hesitated to say any thing on this topic, because I desire the people to act for themselves. My views are on record. Yet it is perhaps but right that my friends should know that the charge that I am for secession is false. If I err in holding on still to the skirts of my venerated old mother, Virginia, and the foster-mother which matured me from boyhood, glorious Tennessee, my countrymen will forgive me, as they have forgiven me for many other things I have done. I am willing even to be called a submissionist for their sake."

☞The Charlestown Mercury advises the immediate importation of a couple of millions of Africans, whom it calls "cannibals" into South Carolina. But isn't there some danger that so many cannibals might some morning eat up for breakfast all the white folks in that little State—and then start off to Florida for their dinner?

It is a curious physiological fact that enthusiastic lady skaters have remarkably small feet, and declare long skirts to be always in the way!

Artemus Ward says "the world continues to revolve round on her own axle trees once in 24 hours, subject to the Constitution of the United States."

They love the least who let each know their love.

Nixon Orders Troops To Move Mail In N.Y.

Picketing Action Is Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon Monday ordered the use of troops to move the strike-bound mail in New York City.

Nixon said New York City is where the problem has become most acute.

"These replacements are being sent in as a supplementary work force to maintain basic services," he said, adding that they would be withdrawn as the striking postal workers return to their jobs.

NEW YORK CITY

"I have just now directed the activation of the men of the various military organizations to begin in New York City the restoration of essential mail services," Nixon said in a broadcast report to the nation.

The President said he also instructed Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell to take whatever action is necessary against illegal picketing which would interfere with the return of workers willing to go back to their jobs.

In ordering the use of military men to handle the mail in New York, Nixon said that is where the strike began, where the service has been halted the longest.

"We cannot and we will not negotiate while thousands of workers are participating in an illegal work stoppage . . ." Nixon said.

"I urge you to return to your jobs," he said, "so that these negotiations can begin . . ."

DEPENDENT ON MAIL

In comments he said were addressed to both working and striking postal workers, Nixon named various groups of people —veterans, the elderly, businessmen, soldiers in Vietnam and other—who depend on the mails.

Nixon said he had recognized ever since he came to Congress that postal workers are underpaid and have legitimate grievances.

He said since he took office as President, he and Postmaster General Winton M. Blount have worked to reform the post office. They have asked for increased pay, more benefits, quicker rises in grade level.

"If the current postal reform had become law, we wouldn't have this crisis," he declared.

"I am asking for the understanding and support of every American in this decision I have made on behalf of our country," Nixon concluded. He spoke for about seven minutes.

Nixon said the issue goes beyond the question of mail service.

"What has occurred here is that some employes of the federal government have gone against . . . the oath of office they took, orders handed down by federal courts and cutting off service to thousands of Americans," he said.

The issue, he said, is the "survival of a government based upon law."

The Post Office Department, reporting a figure of 183,307 workers idle, said another 51,124 who had been on strike had returned to work. A postal spokesman said the situation "looks encouraging," despite the continued absence of strikers in some key cities.

The great majoriy of postal workers did not walk out and remained on the job.

The department said a total of 59 cities, including Boston and

President Withholding Israeli Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers announced today that President Nixon has decided to hold in abeyance for now a decision on Israel's request for 125 more jet fighters, but is granting about $100 million of economic aid to Israel.

At the same time Rogers called for new talks with Russia on limiting arms shipments into the Middle East.

"We believe that our restraints will afford fresh opportunities for all concerned . . . to diminish hostilities and enhance the prospects for peace," he said in a statement.

At a news conference, Rogers also said:

—The U.S. would not be able to stop bombing of the Ho Ci Minh Trail in Laos if North Vietnam continues to use the trail. "We have to protect the safety and lives of troops in South Vietnam," he said.

—The United States backs the bid by the new government of Cambodia for the return there of the International Control Commission to police the country's neutrality. The new regime said it wants to get an estimated 40,000 or more North Vietnammese troops off its territory.

—The United States "had nothing to do directly or indirectly" with the ouster of chief of state Nordom Sihanouk last week. This was Rogers way of denying indirectly Communist

Harris Says Carswell Not Fit To Be Judge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said today the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell should be sent back to the Senate Judiciary Committee to die.

Harris, former national chairman of the Democratic Party, said Carswell is not worthy of the court because of his record, both as a citizen and a judge.

In a 17-page speech prepared for the senate, Harris reviewed all of the arguments raised by opponents of the Florida Appeals Court judge, as debate on the nomination entered its second week. Harris particularly questioned whether Carswell had changed his outlook since 1948 when he gave a speech advocating white supremacy.

"I think the obvious conclusion to be reached, based on all the items discussed, is that while the country has come a long way since 1948, when it might have been acceptable in certain parts of the South to campaign as a white supremist, it cannot be demonstrated from the record that Judge Carswell personally has come an equal distance," he said.

Former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, in an interview Sunday, said Carswell was "not fit" to occupy the seat Goldberg formerly held. Goldberg said the seat had been occupied before him by Justices Storey, Holmes, Cardozo and Frankfurter, considered some of the best legal minds in American history.

"How can it be said of that seat on the court that Judge Carswell is qualified to sit on it?" Goldberg asked.

"He is not."

Goldberg was interviewed on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press."

Harris said the nomination should be sent back to the judiciary committee, which has already approved it and sent it to the Senate floor, so that a "newly developed circumstance" could be explored. This circumstance, he said, was that former chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle and Judge John Minor Wisdom of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, declined to support the Carswell nomination.

He said the committee should call the two judges to question them on the matter. "It would be my hope that the committee might then decide to postpone further consideration of the nomination indefinitely," he added.

Union Rail Leader Hints Of A Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — A railroad union leader told Congress today that 45,000 shopcraft workers—like postal employes—are on the verge of revolting in a nationwide strike because of the long delay in getting a pay raise.

"These people are running right on the ragged edge of being out of control," said William W. Winpisinger, vice president of the International Association of Machinists and chief negotiator for four AFL-CIO rail unions.

"It's a new experience for me to stand in a union hall and have members shout at me that they are ready to rot in jail," Winpisinger told the House Commerce Committee.

The rail workers in the 15-month old dispute over wages and job jurisdiction are working under a 37-day strike ban ordered by Congress. It expires April 11.

Winpisinger said he would prefer that Congress enact the forced settlement proposed by President Nixon rather than risk any further delay.

He said the situation among the rail workers is like a powder keg that could explode any minute into a nationwide, wildcat strike in violation of the law and likened the situation to the postal workers walkouts in many cities.

A nationwide strike would throw all 575,000 rail workers off the job and quickly paralyze

Ex-Tunney Aide Seeks Congress Job

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Russell R. Miller of San Francisco, dean of boys at Stuart Hall School, filed late Friday for the Democratic nomination in the Sixth Congressional District, which includes Central and Southern Marin.

Miller, 32, was a press secretary to Rep. John V. Tunney, D-38th District, from 1966 to 1968, when he returned to his native San Francisco to take the job with the private school.

A graduate of the University of San Francisco, Miller did graduate studies at Columbia University for two years, then worked in the insurance business before joining Tunney's Washington staff.

Miller is a bachelor.

Also seeking the Democratic nomination, as previously reported, is Zaide Kirtley of San Francisco, an attorney. The incumbent, William S. Mailliard, is unopposed in the Republican primary.

Maddox Will Remain Demo For Campaign

ATLANTA (UPI)—Gov. Lester Maddox said today he will remain a Democrat in his bid for lieutenant governor this year.

Maddox said many Republicans had urged him to cross party lines but had decided against making the switch after a thorough study of both parties.

Some San Rafael Service Curtailed

The main San Rafael Post Office and two of its three branches were operating with only 25 per cent of their letter carriers today, but Postmaster Hugh Cassidy said mail service was normal "except for some delivery areas inside San Rafael."

Pickets appeared at the main San Rafael Post Office at 3:45 p.m. yesterday, Cassidy said, but supervisory personnel and mail clerks were able to process the mail during the night.

He said 75 per cent of the mailmen at the main and Kentfield post offices did not report for work today, but that 90 per cent were working at the Marin Civic Center office.

The main San Rafael Post Office is the link for all mail service between Marin and the rest of the nation.

The branch on D Street in downtown San Rafael is a post office business station, Cassidy said, and no deliveries are made from it.

Alan Thomas, postal service officer for the San Rafael, Santa Rosa and Eureka areas, said that San Rafael was the only post office in the north bay region affected by the strike.

The post office at Fort Bragg was picketed yesterday, but all letter carriers reported for work there today, he said.

Except for San Rafael, Thomas said, "there seems to be a general return to work."

Marin mail destined for New York was moving again, Cassidy reported. The mail had been held at the San Rafael Post Office.

Thomas said "a better attendance of employees over the weekend in the New York area" allowed the mail to be released and shipped out.

Mail for Marin was also being received from around the country again, Cassidy said.

He said the San Rafael Post Office received mail yesterday that had been backed up elsewhere.

"New York is about the only place we didn't notice any mail from," he said.

There were pickets today at the three San Rafael branches. While the Civic Center branch

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Church Warning

MOSCOW (AP) — G. H. Kyazimov, a secretary of the Communist party's central committee in Azerbaijan, has been fired for "serious drawbacks in his work," Pravda announced.

He was the third top party official fired in nine months in the small, oil-rich Asian state on the Caspian Sea. A new party first secretary, G. A. Aliev, was named last July because the state had consistently failed to meet production quotas, and on Jan. 3 he fired the health minister.

The announcement of Kyazimov's dismissal said Azerbaijan suffered "serious drawbacks in fulfillment of the goals of the five-year plan and failed to keep promises to increase production in honor of the 100th anniversary of Lenin's birth."

Tremor Kills 14

BOMBAY, India (AP) — An earthquake rocked the Arabian Sea port of Broach, 200 miles north of Bombay today, killing 14 persons and injuring 79.

About 200 houses were damaged in the shock, which was felt in Bombay.

The tremor caused widespread alarm in Bombay because it coincided with the Hindu spring festival of Holi.

The Gujarat state government ordered relief measures and all public servants in the affected areas were recalled to duty.

The bridge spanning the Marmada river outside Broach, which carries the Bombay to New Delhi rail road line, was undamaged, first reports said.

Out Of Job

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church in Rhodesia said Sunday it will resist any efforts by the white minority regime of Prime Minister Ian Smith to impose racial segregation on any religious activities.

The warning came in a pastoral message issued by Archbishop Francis W. Markall of Salisbury and his four bishops. Anglican Bishop Paul Burrough said the letter was a "brave statement of Christian belief in the rights of man," and the Rev. Andrew Ndhela, head of the Methodist Church, said his Church "backed the statement to the hilt."

A land tenure action, introduced with Rhodesia's new constitution, specifies separate areas for whites and blacks to live and work. The pastroal message, read to Catholic congregations throughout the country, said the Church feared that people of one race might be barred from worshiping in its churches, being educated in its schools or treated in its hospitals.

Promises Help

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II of Great Britain received a plea from a Lithuanian-born mother to help find her lost son when the royal family stepped ashore from their yacht Brittanica at Tauranga today.

The woman, who broke away from a welcoming crowd and knelt before the queen in stockinged feet, said she had not seen her son since she was sent to a German concentration camp 27 years ago. The boy was then 4 years old.

The bereaved mother said afterward the queen promised to help her.

Back To Pills

LONDON (AP) — About half the British women who stopped using birth control pills because of a scare last December have now resumed taking them, the Oral Contraceptive Information Center says.

It estimated that 1.5 million British women were taking the pill when the government committee on drug safety warned that the risk of thrombosis was greater from pills containing higher amounts of the hormone estrogen. A spokesman said Sunday about 10 per cent of the women stopped taking the pill.

Since then family planning experts have argued that the risks involved in taking the pill are small compared to some other birth control methods.

A spokesman at the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists said it would issue a statement "deploring the unreasonable and gross exaggerations of the hazards of the contraceptive pill to which the public is now exposed."

Slick Drifts

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The Gulf of Mexico's largest oil spill, now a fraction of its original size, drifted toward open sea today as workmen labored to choke its source.

The U.S. Coast Guard said aerial reconnaissance Sunday showed the slick to be one square mile, extending to the south-southeast of Chevron Oil Company's "Charlie" platform, 11 miles east of the Louisiana coast.

A spokesman for the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, which also sent a plane over the area, said there was a secondary slick, fanning out about 12 square miles beyond the heavy slick.

Pope In New Peace Plea

ROME (AP) — Pope Paul VI, in a Palm Sunday speech, appealed to Roman Catholics everywhere to work for peace.

"We must always desire peace and serve it and not lose faith in being able to achieve it," the pontiff declared from his window overlooking St. Peter's square after celebrating Mass before 20,000 persons in St. Peter's Basilica.

"We need to generate it in every hour of life and of history, and we know that we can do it because our peace is Christ."

After the Mass, the Pope had passed out palm fronds for more than 20 minutes to the worshipers, who included scores of cardinals and bishops, Vatican diplomats and tourists from many parts of the world.

PLEADS HER INNOCENCE

15 Hurt In Bombing At Discotheque

NEW YORK (AP) — A pipe bomb exploded Sunday night at Manhattan's Electric Circus discotheque, injuring 15 persons including eight students on an Easter holiday recess from their North Carolina college.

All but three of the injured were treated and released, hospital spokesmen said. One youth suffered a fractured left leg and another second degree burns of the thigh.

The blast came 20 hours after a bomb exploded at a Bronx brokerage firm knocking out the door and windows. Another bomb was found on the window ledge of the bank next door and disarmed before it could explode. There were no injuries in the brokerage house blast.

The Electric Circus, located on St. Mark's Place in the heart of the East Village, is known for its rock music and psychedelic lighting.

A sparse, rainy-night crowd of about 150, including the vacationing students from Western Carolina University in Cullowhee, N.C., was on hand at 11:40 p.m. when the bomb went off.

"I couldn't believe it," said Rose Pleasant, 18, of Reidsville, N.C. "I thought it was part of the show. Everybody started screaming. Somebody grabbed me and I hobbled to an exit door and down the fire escape."

At the time of the blast, she said, "we were watching an actor finish his act. Suddenly I saw a big yellow flash. I thought it was the psychedelic lights. But then I felt pains in my legs, sharp stings where pieces of metal had hit me."

Police said the pipe was packed with small ammunition that acted like shrapnel. It included a clock timer and one round to set it off.

The device was placed near the main entrance to the dance area behind a round, wooden platform.

U.S. Planes Downed Over Laos Territory

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy gunners shot down two more U.S. Air Force planes over Laos and four Army helicopters over South Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced today. Three men were killed, two are missing and two were wounded.

The two planes, an F4 Phantom jet and an A1 Skyraider, were shot down Thursday and Saturday over the northern part of the Laotian panhandle while operating against North Vietnamese forces along the Ho Chi Minh Trail to South Vietnam.

One of the Phantom's two crewmen was rescued, but the other and the pilot of the Skyraider are missing. A total of 10 American planes have been reported lost over Laos in the two weeks since the U.S. Command began announcing American losses over Laos. Most of them were attacking North Vietnamese forces on the Ho Chi Minh Trail, but some were operating in support of Laotian government forces.

Sunday was the second day this month in which four American helicopters were reported shot down in South Vietnam, the other being March 6. Three crewmen were killed and two wounded in the crashes Sunday.

A total of 3,481 American helicopters have been reported lost in The Vietnam war.

A terrorist grenade exploded near Saigon on Sunday night at a Buddhist pray-for-peace meeting, killing 17 persons and wounding 41, military sources said.

They added that the number of casualties suffered in the blast at Hoc Mon district town, originally put at 14 killed and 21 wounded, increased after a final check by doctors.

All the casualties came from a single grenade thrown into a crowd of up to 400 persons—most of them women and children—praying in a courtyard at Hoc Mon, seven miles northwest of Saigon.

South Vietnamese military spokesmen said the terrorist who threw the grenade was believed to have been a woman who escaped in the confusion.

The casualties at Hoc Mon were the worst in a recent wave of terrorist bombings, primarily centered in Saigon. There have been half a dozen such incidents in the city in the past eight days.

Larkspur Collision Charges Still Pending

No charge was filed Friday in Marin Muncipal Court against Robert G. MacInerny, 28, of Corte Madera, who was arrested in Larkspur Tuesday on suspicion of felony drunken driving. The case was to be investigated further by the district attorney's staff.

McInerny was involved in a three-car accident on Magnolia Avenue in which two persons were injured.

A Call For Statewide Planning

By ERIK M. INGRAM.

If California is ever to solve the environmental blight now sapping not only its beauty but its strength, then the state must take over the planning now largely the prerogative of local government.

So thinks Alfred E. Heller of Kentfield, founder and president of California Tomorrow, a conservation group which for the past 10 years has been striving to avert ecological disaster by formulating positive alternatives in its quarterly publication "Cry California."

But establishing state planning power is only part of the answer. California must also develop an integrated plan based on relationships between population, industry, agriculture, conservation and future growth so a decent living standard can be achieved.

Claiming that environmental control is on every politician's top 10 he said he still sees no evidence of a comprehensive state plan coming from the state.

"Not many people know it, but this state started a comprehensive plan in 1959. Now 10 years and $4 million later, the state's document does nothing more than recommend that a further study be made," he said.

Meanwhile, the present patchwork of plans and policies of myriad planning commissions and agencies are not even pretending to provide answers, he claims.

Marin and southern Sonoma County illustrate the problem with about 100 separate taxing agencies involved in planning. These include the 16 city and county planning commissions, the sanitation, school and transportation districts.

As Heller views the problem, each of these agencies acts on its own territory without regard to what effect for good or ill its action may have on the county's total environment. Similarly, counties pursuing their own ends can act without regard to their effect on what kind of state California is to become.

"I think we're one leg up on approaching the goal of making concern for our environment a respectable political question," said Heller as he walked through the spacious back yard of his two-story home on Woodland Road.

"But I still don't think people are fully alerted to the magnitude of finding satisfactory solutions," he continued. "They don't really realize the costs involved or the controls to be established if people are going to live decently."

The former Nevada County newspaper publisher and planning commissioner, who has co-authored two books on the failure of state and local governments to meet "land-use" of our state has gone too far to be combatted with the "one-battle-at-a-time approach."

"The state has the responsibility of setting out land-use goals, and to put those goals into plans which will work," he said.

"Every year, 21 square miles of land in the Bay Area, including Marin County, is being needlessly developed and no one is concerned," he explained. "With all the local government agencies we have, none is willing to face up to the problem."

"And one-third of our prime agriculture land has been lost through development already," the Stanford graduate pointed out. "The state expresses concern, but does nothing. It has no policies governing this."

Heller said the current commuter fight involving the Golden Gate Bridge District board is typical of planning by government agencies and private groups.

"The people in San Francisco want ferry boats and those in Marin want buses, but no one is considering the effect on the quality of living either will have", he said.

Heller said the Marin transportation problem is representative of others in the state.

This is why California Tomorrow exists, he added, to look at the total picture; not just single issues, but rather how single issues relate to each other. And this is where state and local government has failed, he said.

"Local government has failed," Heller continued, "because their jurisdictions are inadequate and they are too close to local economic pressures."

Heller pointed out that the rural counties in the northeastern part of the state have had much of their natural beauty destroyed by subdivisions. These subdivisions were built without any knowledge by the state, and no vision on the part of local planners.

Similar instances have occured throughout the state, including Marin, he pointed out, adding that California might well follow the example of Hawaii by establishing state controlled rural agricultural, urban, conservation and recreational zones.

Heller said California Tomorrow was starting a similar plan for this state's needs.

"In our plan, we don't want to be held to any previous restraints. We want to begin fresh," he said, adding that if dealing with the problem meant forming state zones, then this is what his group will recommend.

"I think people are finding this type of thinking more reasonable than when we started 10 years ago," he added.

Zucker Issue Tops Agenda For Board

County Administrator Alan Bruce's recommendation that County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker be fired will highlight tomorrow's meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Zucker, in turn, will ask for a leave of absence without pay starting March 30 to campaign against Supervisor John F. McInnis.

Other items on the morning agenda include appointment of a youth member of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, request for a three-hour closing of county offices on Good Friday and hearings on applications for general relief.

At noon, the supervisors will be guests of the Marin Property Owners Association at a luncheon at the Holiday Inn.

In the afternoon, supervisors will hear complaints against two developments which have been approved by the Marin County Planning Commission. One if the marina development proposed along Strawberry Cove by Leonard B. Fleischman and the Clipper Yacht Co. The other is a master plan for Marinview subdivision on Tennessee Valley Road, with the main access at Bell Lane near Tamalpais Valley School.

Supervisors hope to wind up the day's agenda about 4 p.m. because they will meet at 8 p.m. in West Marin School at Point Reyes Station to discuss the proposed ordinance to control filling and construction on tidal waterways.

Closed Sessions

The Tamalpais High School District board has set four closed meetings to interview candidates for district superintendent. The meetings will be March 26, 27, 30 and 31, all at 8 p.m. at the district office.

Second Person Dies In Wrong-Way Crash

Bostic Jones, 62, of Daly City, died at Marin General Hospital yesterday, becoming the second person to die as the result of a wrong-way crash on the Richardson Bay Bridge March 17.

Jones's wife, Fay, was killed when a car driven by David Massey, 23, a soldier stationed at Fort Barry, travelling the wrong way on Highway 101 collided at 1 a.m. with the southbound car driven by Jones.

Jones suffered head and chest injuries and was in critical condition at Marin General Hospital from the time he entered until his death.

He was a special police officer for American President Lines, Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan reported.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Jones's death was the 10th automobile fatality in Marin as compared to five at the same time last year.

Massey was booked on suspicion of felong drunk driving after the crash.

Water Board Due Purchase Request

A request from Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger for authorization to purchase seven vehicles will again be considered by the Marin Municipal Water District board at 1:30 p.m. next Monday.

The board's regularly scheduled meeting for Wednesday has been postponed.

Seeger's request for the vehicles at the board's last meeting got bogged down in a discussion of the price of one of the vehicles and the question of equipping all of them to run on liquid propane gas rather than normal gasoline.

The board will also open bids for a janitorial service contract for the district office and grounds.

Pair Nabbed In Stolen Goods Probe

A 32-year-old San Leandro man and his 33-year-old woman companion were arrested in San Rafael Friday on suspicion of burglary and possessing stolen property after a man saw them leave his unoccupied apartment and flee in a white car, according to police today.

Booked into Marin County Jail were Frederick Roy Schetter and Raquel Wells of Alameda County. Both are held in lieu of $6,250 bail. Schetter was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today. The Wells woman has been transferred to Napa State Hospital for 72-hour treatment for drug usage, a sheriff's deputy said today.

The incident began at 10:43 p.m. when Chandra K. Jain, a 24-year old student, arrived home at 403 Mission Street, according to police, and found the couple's car blocking his driveway. A few minutes later Jain saw the pair leave his apartment and drive away.

Jain, finding his stereo, tape recorder, camera, lamp and speakers piled on a bed near the door, called police giving them the license number.

About eight minutes later police stopped the car at Third and Irwin streets, they reported. A stolen television set and pliers, field glasses, three pair of gloves, screwdrivers, cufflinks, a tie pin and spring blade knife were among the articles found in the car, according to police.

Booking Made On Exposure

A 35-year old Fairfax man was booked into Marin County Jail Friday on suspicion of indecent exposure after three teen-age girls reported him to police.

James Mullins of 1 Coree Lane was freed on $625 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow.

The three girls, one, 19, and two, 18, reported Mullins, sitting in a blue stationwagon, exposed himself as they walked by at Fourth and D streets at 2:40 p.m., according to police.

Mullins was arrested minutes later when his car was stopped at Second and Brooks streets, police said.

Dog Kennel Depends On Sound

A dog kennel may be permitted at 755 Atherton Avenue near Bugeia Lane, Novato, if the owner can soundproof the structure and limit outside runs, Deputy Zoning Administrator Ralph D. Cairns declared today.

Anne Keleman had requested the use permit for a kennel to house up to 18 dogs, in addition to six of her own pets. They will be toys or medium sized dogs, nothing larger, she told Cairns.

A delegation of neighbors, backed by six letters of protest, appeared at the Civic Center hearing. Mrs. Wayne Tharp of 775 Atherton Avenue declared the dogs already create a racket by night and day, and property values will be lowered. "No one wants to live near kennels," said Mrs. Tharp. "We don't mind horses, but we don't want dogs."

Cairns pointed out that there are several kennels already in the area. The property is zoned agricultural, which permits kennels for more than six dogs by use permit.

"I am inclined to approve this if the owner can keep the noise down," said Cairns. He suggested that Miss Keleman consider a kennel completely indoors, with limits on outside runs.

He said he will make his decision in about a week, after talking to the owner about a completely enclosed kennel with sufficient soundproofing to keep noise to a minimum.

many other industries dependent on rail supply.

Congress hastily enacted the 37-day strike ban to head off a strike threat March 4, expiring April 11, and urged negotiators to seek a peaceful settlement.

But two attempts of the Nixon administration to get negotiations going again flopped when the key union blocking a settlement, the Sheet Metal Workers, refused to attend.

Vice President J. W. O'Brien of the Sheet Metal Workers said neither Assistant Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery, the Nixon administration's chief troubleshooter in the dispute, nor any other Labor Department official could any longer act as an impartial mediator because Nixon had asked Congress to impose a mandatory settlement on wages and job jurisdiction.

Three unions representing machinists, electricians and boilermakers have agreed to accept a railroad industry proposal for a 68-cent hike in current wages of $3.60 per hour and a change in job jurisdiction rules aimed at increasing efficiency.

Special Meeting

A special meeting to discuss future plan for dredging the waterways will be held at 8:30 p.m. to day by the Bel Marin Community Service District board at the community center, according to secretary Betty Zoeller.

Injuries Minor In Auto Crash

Four persons were injured yesterday in a two-car accident yesterday on Highway 101 southbound four miles north of Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Iliana P. Fraser-Thompson, 21, of San Francisco, was treated at Novato General Hospital for a sprained ankle and facial cuts after the car in which she was a passenger, operated by Tania Mandrusson, 22, also of San Francisco, collided with a car drivin by Patrick J. Cusick, 43, of 30 Stirrup Lane, Novato.

The highway patrol said Cusick attempted to pull onto the highway from a driveway and was struck by the Mandrusson car. Cusick, who complained of pain after the accident, said he did not see the second car, officers said.

Noreen M. Cusick, 46, of Novato, received scrapes and bruises in the accident and Miss Mandrusson complained of pain, but both refused hospital treatment.

Candidates' Night Scheduled For Mill Valley

The candidates will be questioned on major problems facing Mill Valley, intergovernmental cooperation and city recreational needs.

Site Selected For New Fire Station

The Marin City Community Services District board, in a meeting with County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom Saturday, selected a site between the Rosa Building and Drake Avenue for the new fire house.

The district already owns part of the property—the site of the old Waldo Store—and plans on the construction of the fire house on one acre and a police station on an adjacent acre.

charges that the CIA engineered the coup.

Rogers also said it is not too late to negotiate an agreement with Russia on MIRV or any other kind of strategic nuclear weapon. U.S.-Soviet talks will open on April 16 in Vienna in an effort to curb the nuclear arms race.

On the Middle East arms situation, Rogers was pressed to say the United States plans to do nothing concrete about solving the flow of arms into the area since its own policy is based on the present Arab-Israeli balance of power.

"We plan to discuss this matter in the near future with the Soviet Union," Rogers said. He conceded, however, there is no intimation that Moscow would be more responsive than it has been in the past when it rejected any kind of arms control agreement for the Middle East.

On the denial of Israel's request, Rogers said:

"In our judgment, Israel's air capacity is sufficient to meet its needs for the time being. Consequently, the President has decided to hold in abeyance for now the decision with respect to Israel's request for additional aircraft."

Rogers identified them as 25 more Phantom jets and 100 more Skyhawks.

Rogers said that Nixon instructed that close watch will be kept on the military balance in the area. "The United States will be in a position to provide additional as well as replacement aircraft promptly if the situation requires it," he said.

Earlier, Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott said Rogers briefed Senate leaders of both parties on the decision on Israel's request.

POSTAL

Buffalo, which were closed by the strike Saturday reopened this morning.

Besides arranging for television time, Nixon summoned congressional leaders of both parties to the White House an hour ahead of his statement. Presumably he wanted to discuss his plans with them in advance.

Prior to Nixon's talk, the national president of striking union letter carriers urged President Nixon Monday to delay any decision to call in Army troops at least until midnight.

James H. Rademacher, head of the National Association of Letter Carriers, talked with newsmen only a short time before Nixon was to address the nation by radio and television about his plans for halting a mail tie-up.

"I think more than 90 per cent of our people will return to work by tomorrow morning," Rademacher said.

He added he didn't know whether Nixon planned to call on soldiers to carry the mail, but if so, "all he is doing is trying to replace professional letter carriers with unskilled, untrained servicemen."

Rademacher said he had received more than 300 telegrams and phone calls from letter carrier groups around the country in favor of going back to work.

After a chaotic start in some areas, postal service in California began to operate more smoothly today and authorities said that most mail was being delivered.

In San Francisco, postal authorities said 95 per cent of all workers were on the job and that all carrier routes were covered. In Los Angeles, operations were reported 50 per cent normal at the main office and "completely normal" at the 52 city substations.

Sunday night, 10 pickets formed outside the Terminal Annex in Los Angeles, key distribution point for the central and downtown districts, and about three-fourths of 350 overnight shift postal workers did not cross the line. About 200 of 300 overnight shift workers refused to cross a picket line at World Ways Postal Station at Los Angeles International Airport.

"All air mail coming in or going through Los Angeles will be affected one way or another," said Dan Redholtz, acting superintendent at World Ways.

Pupils To Perform For School Benefit

SERVICE

had 22 of its normal 24 mailmen working, mail deliveries were still reported to be an hour late.

The main branch had only eight of a normal 32, and the Kentfield branch three of 12 letter carriers working today.

A Sausalito man, meanwhile, was making preparations to begin a volunteer mail delivery service if deliveries were halted anywhere in Marin.

Thomas Young of 30 Princess Street, said that the plans are tentative and that it did not appear today that the service would be needed.

But "the minute I hear postal service in any town in Marin County has stopped, we'll go to that town and deliver," he said.

He said if mail was stopped in Sausalito, his group would charge four cents to hand deliver mail in the town. Proceeds would go to the Presbyerian Church street ministry.

If mail service was stopped in other Marin cities, he said, his workers wuld pick up the mail at the post offices and deliver it.

Young, a writer for aviation magazines, said he depends on the mail for his job. He said the workers for the volunteer mail service would be children of Presbyterian Church members.

Driver Booked In Auto Probe

Eugene Albert Rege, 21, of San Francisco, was booked into Marin County Jail Saturday for investigation of auto theft after Sausalito police noted there was no key in the ignition of the station wagon he was driving.

Police saw the car stalled between two of the city's municipal parking lots about 2:50 p.m. and went to assist him. After seeing the key was missing, police ran a routine check of the vehicle which revealed it had been stolen Friday in San Francisco.

Rege was being held in lieu of $1,150 bail and was to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Fair-Marin Membership Session Set

A general membership meeting of Fair-Marin will be held tonight at the Marin Civic Center to nominate new directors for two vacancies on the board and to discuss possible by-law changes.

President Harold Stockstad announced that the meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the planning commission chambers on the third floor of the Civic Center.

Fair-Marin Inc., which had been charged with administering the new Veterans Memorial Auditorium and fairgrounds, was stripped of those duties in January when the county took over the job. Since then, Fair-Marin has been operating as a private, nonprofit corporation, serving as a catalyst for more than 70 organizations interested in the arts, culture, recreation and service.

Two vacancies to be filled on the board of directors are those formerly held by Marilyn Miskimen and W. P. (Doc)Duhamel. Mrs. Miskimen quit last year, and Duhamel about three weeks ago.

GI Education Bill Sent To President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to President Nixon Monday a GI education bill boosting benefits by 35 per cent. This increases the monthly payments for unmarried student veterans to $175 from the current $130.

Action on the compromise measure came on a voice vote.

"For the first time this nation will be offering Vietnam War veterans comparable benefits we gave veterans of the Korean conflict," said Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., "and we will be opening to veterans new programs designed to meet the special needs of the educationally disadvantaged."

The bill, passed by the House last week, raises benefits for Vietnam veterans and all others who have served since 1955.

It includes special programs for high school dropouts and disadvantaged veterans.

Increases also are provided in allowances for vocational rehabilitation.

Sponsors figure the full cost of the increases will be about $280 million in the first year, compared to about $88 million budgeted by Nixon.

The measure raises college payments for married veterans to $205 a month from the present $155, and to $230 from the current $175 if they have one child. There would be an additional $13 payment for each additional dependent.

Cambodia Calls For End To Occupational Forces

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government today called for an "end through peaceful means" to the occupation of Cambodian soil by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops.

Gen. Lon Nol, the conservative premier and defense minister, said in a statement the leaders who ousted Prince Norodom Sihanouk last week would try "through political and diplomatic means" to get the Communist Vietnamese to "recognize Cambodia's neutrality." But no mention was made of using Cambodia's 47,000-man armed forces against the estimated 40,000 battle-hardened North Vietnamese and Viet Cong based along Cambodia's side of the border with South Vietnam.

Sihanouk, Cambodia's ruler since 1941, was deposed by Lon Nol and Deputy Premier Sirik Matak last Wednesday after a week of public demonstrations against the presence of the Communist troops. Lon Nol's government had given the intruders an ultimatum to quit the country but it was ignored, and Sihanouk was in Moscow asking the Russians to pressure Hanoi to remove its troops.

As part of the new regime's campaign to get the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong out, Foreign Minister Yem Sambaur said he would meet this week with the British and Soviet ambassadors to ask for the return of the International Control Commission set up by the 1954 Geneva agreement which ended the French-Indochina war.

The ICC was asked to leave late last year on the ground that Cambodia could no longer afford to pay its share of the commission's operating costs.

The government kept up its campaign of vilification against Sihanouk and his family, issued a list of persons forbidden to return to Cambodia and ordered the removal of all pictures of Queen Mother Kossomak. Sihanouk's picture and his name already have been banned.

Lon Nol sent all airline and shipping companies the list of banned persons and said seizure and arrest would result if any of them tried to return. The list included Sihanouk, his wife, Princess Monique, their children, other members of the royal family and several "high dignitaries" who were close associates of the ousted ruler. Sihanouk announced in Peking Sunday that he would divide his exile between the Soviet Union and Red China.

Other activities of the conference, in addition to a business meeting, include a dinner inside San Quentin followed by a tour of the prison, a tour of the Marin County Civic Center for the wives, and a lecture on graphic arts behind the Iron Curtain.

Court Rules Welfare Recipient Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 3 today that people on welfare have a right to a formal, evidentiary hearing before officials may decide to reduce or end their assistance.

The decision, by Justice William J. Brennan Jr., emphasized that public assistance "is not mere charity." Its dispensation, then, he said, must be governed by constitutional procedures.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger dissented along with Justices Hugo L. Black and Potter Stewart.

The hearing must provide an opportunity for the welfare recipient to appear in person to present evidence to support his claim for continued assistance and to confront or cross-examine witnesses against him, Brennan said.

In other actions today, the court:

—Agreed to decide whether the Swedish film "I Am Curious (Yellow)" is obscene.

—Turned down unanimously requests for a drastic reduction in the bail of 12 Black Panthers who have been charged in New York City with plotting to bomb police stations, department stores and railroad facilities.

—Granted a hearing to the State of Wisconsin in its effort to keep alive a law that makes it a crime to serve liquor to allegedly excessive drinkers.

FOR TAM HIGH TEACHER

Slack Time? Not In Retirement

Herman C. Graves and his wife Bobby went around the world last summer, so travel may not hold much lure when he retires this June after teaching 27 years in the Tamalpais High School District.

Graves, a native of Oregon, came to Marin in 1943 after teaching for nine years in Oregon, four years as principal of Pine Valley High School.

He started teaching business courses, mathematics and history at Tamalpais, then the district's only school.

He took time out during World War II to enter the Navy, where he became captain of a minesweeper plying the icy waters off the Aleutian Islands.

He returned from the war in 1946, and served as business manager of the district for seven years before going to Sir Francis Drake High School in 1953 as a business teacher. He served for several years as chairman of the business education department as well.

Retirement will find him nearly as busy as ever. Graves and his wife own the Golden Sails jewelry shop in Sausalito's Village Fair, and he said he will take a more active part in running it on retiring from education.

There may be more time as well to visit their children, a daughter in Atlanta anda son in San Francisco, and their three grandchildren.

Sports also will take some of his time. In addition to hunting, fishing and hiking, Graves said he was a fan of most organized sports. He coached baseball and basketball for several years in Colton, Oregon, during his first teaching days.

He was graduated from Lindfield College in McMinnville, Oregon, and later received a master's degree at the University of Southern California.

What's the best thing about teaching? "Anyone who has been in teaching very long likes the kids best—the association with the kids. If you don't like them, you're not a teacher."

He couldn't think of anything specific that he dislikes about teaching, but said "teaching is a difficult job. . .along with all the pleasure you get, there's a certain amount of strain too."

He said students "do better now than ever—and so do I. I feel I do things better now than I've ever done."

He said the present changes in dress and student customs and drug use are noticeable on the campus, but said drugs have produced no changes in his classes.

Students today, he said, are much more concerned about social conditions than they used to be.

In 36 years of teaching, an Oregon boy in Graves's first science class stands out in memory: "I had a boy that had built what was then considered the smallest motor in the world."

The motor, the size of a garden pea, Graves said, was mounted on the terminal of a flashlight battery and was started by flicking it with a nearly invisible wire. Too small for its movement to be seen by the naked eye, only the motor's hum indicated it was turning.

Graves said it was not through any skill of his that the boy built the motor. But the invention was portrayed in Ripley's "Believe It or Not" column.

It may have helped a young educator decide that teaching was where he belonged.

Williams To Address Bar Association

Spencer Williams, candidate for the Republican nomination as state attorney general, will speak before the Marin County Bay Association at noon Thursday at the Elks Club in San Rafael.

Seniors Vie For Bank's Top Awards

Thirteen Redwood Empire high school seniors, including six from Marin, have reached the semifinals in competition for $4,000 in scholarships offered annually by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Three of the Marinites—Daniel Jordan of 87 Deer Park Avenue and Barbara Clow of 357 Mount Shasta Drive, both of San Rafael, and students at San Rafael High School, and Michael Meyer of 25 Corte Alegre, Greenbrae, a student at Redwood High School—are among seven vying for a scholarship assigned to PG&E's North Bay Division.

The other three county residents—Paul and David Melcon of 234 Cobblestone Drive, Marinwood, seniors at Terra Linda High School, and Edward Freymiller of 656 Cherry Street, Novato, a student at San Marin High School—are seeking two awards the company has set aside for employees' children.

Semifinal judging for the North Bay Division scholarship will be held the week of March 30 at the PG&E Building at Third and Brooks streets. The winner will be chosen in San Francisco on April 13.

The other three students will compete with 17 others from schools throughout northern and central California in semifinals in San Francisco on March 31 and April 1. Six finalists will be chosen at that competition.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Oedipus Rex' Not The Real Shocker

By GARY TISCHLER

SAN FRANCISCO—There is so much that is visually and even dramatically impressive in the American Conservatory Theater's production of Sophocles's "Oedipus Rex," that it is rather disappointing to find your head and heart moved only a little bit by the play which opened at the Geary Theater Saturday.

I was doubly disappointed because I've always felt that the play ought to leave you shaken, shocked and a little stunned at its conclusion, even if you know everay word and every scene in advance.

Oedipus, who flees his native Corinth to escape an oracle's prediction that he would murder his father and wed his mother and sire children by her, then becomes king of Thebes and sees the dire prediction come true, ought to be and is, more than just a man.

He ought to be a little godlike, wise, reeking of justified power, and strength. For he commits a far more serious sin than sleeping with his mother—he defies his destiny, his fate, the very Gods themselves and his fall ought to shake the theater.

Saturday, it did not. And the fault must lie with the actor's interpretation, in this case, surprisingly, that of Paul Shenar's, one of ACT's more distinguished performers.

It's not just a matter of stumbling over lines, which Shenar did, and which got things off to a bad and unsure start. But his Oedipus is vain, pompus and petulant, full of self-pity and an arrogance that doesn't seem to have any force behind it. So that when his own curse is brought down on him, one doesn't really care, even though this is where Shenar is most convincing.

One wants to say "that's tough," instead of perhaps "this is awful, how terrible for something like this to happen to such a man."

The production is a ritualistic one and in itself, is excellent. The massive, pinnacled and somber sets of Robert Fletcher are like some kind of solid, unnerving shadows that haunt the action while an all-male chorus echoes and comments throughout the play like priests at the funeral of a pope.

The rest of the cast, too, gives bravura performances, especially Ken Ruta, as Teiresias, a blind, gnarled and fiercely proud prophet who arouses the wrath of Oedipus with the first hints of his doom.

ACT veteran Ray Reinhardt is sympathetic and human as Creon and Carol Mayo Jenkins' performances as Iocaste, wife mother and queen to Oedipus, is both feminine and regal.

Laotian Chief Accuses Hanoi Of Sending In 13,000 Troops

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Souvanna Phouma accused North Vietnam today of sending 13,000 more troops into Laos recently, supported by tanks, rockets and long-range guns, to further Hanoi's "expansionist and ideological" aims.

Speaking on the 20th anniversary of the Royal Laotian army Prince Souvanna said North Vietnamese forces had "captured for the Pathet Lao an area which unequivocally belongs to the neutralist forces."

He presumably was referring to the Plain of Jars, which the neutralist faction he heads controlled in the early 1960s with Pathet Lao consent, After Souvanna became head of the government and the United States became his chief backer, the North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao took over the strategic plain in northeast Laos. They lost it last September to a guerrilla army trained and supported by the United States, then recaptured it in the offensive they began last month.

Souvanna said his government had called on the governments which signed the 1962 Geneva agreement guaranteeing Laotian neutrality to confer among themselves to find "a common and just solution to the Lao problem."

"It is regrettable that this was not done earlier," he said. "After eight years of patience, we believe that the signatories of the Geneva accords can find by themselves that it is time to act in favor of peace in Laos."

The Premier said his government had received the five-point Pathet Lao peace proposal "with the most attentive welcome, faithful as we are to the principles of a political settlement in justice and honor to urs national dilemma."

No further North Vietnamese advance was reported in the area of Long Cheng, the headquarters 80 miles north of Vientiane of Gen. Vang Pao's guerrilla Army.

Near 'Head-On' Accident Hurts Five, One Critical

Five persons were injured, one seriously, in a near head-on collision yesterday on Petaluma-Point Reyes Road, north of Novato Boulevard.

Most seriously injured was Emil Paul Montenegro, 23, of Hayward, a driver, who was reported in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital.

California Highway Patrol officers reported that a car driven by Montenegro collided "almost head-on" with a car driven by Michael George Allen, 20, of 1404 East Madison Street, Petaluma, at 12:20 p.m.

Allen, traveling south, apparently was in the northbound lane passing another car on a hill, the highway patrol said. At the crest of the hill, the two drivers saw each other and both swerved to the shoulder of the road where they collided.

Deborah Mae Borges, 19, of San Leandro, owner of the car Montenegro was driving suffered multiple bruises. She was reported in satisfactory condition today, at Novato General Hospital.

Allen suffered minor cuts of both legs, while his passengers, Marianne Louise Allen, 21, of the same address, suffered a headache, and Richard Boyer, 13, of 110 Forrest Avenue, Fairfax, suffered a cut forehead and headache. All were treated at Novato General Hospital.

Store Windows Ruined By Steel Nuts

Each of the broken windows shown on this page was hit by a steel nut, apparently catapulted at high velocity by a sling-shot. A careful examination of some of the pictures will reveal the hexagonal shape of the hole coinciding exactly with the shape of the nut which broke it. In one of the pictures the nut which did the damage lies on the walk beneath a broken window.

In each of these cases — only a few of the total attacked throughout Marin — the store had previously been advised by letter or telephone call, or both, from representatives of San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21 not to advertise in the Independent-Journal. The Union has been on strike against the I-J since Jan. 7.

"Our Union does not condone or advocate such tacts," wrote Leon Olson, president of San Francisco Typgraphical Union No. 21, in a letter to the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce, Feb. 25.

Charles B. Weers, secretary of the Marin County Labor Council, publicly denied any improper union conduct during an appearance before the San Rafael Lion's Club March 11.

Earlier, on Feb. 1, Olson told a group of students in Mill Valley, "I wouldn't be surprised if there is violence. . . . A strike is like war."

The February 26 issue of the ITU Review, published by the International Typographical Union, quotes ITU president John J. Pilch as declaring "Violence is predictable. . . ." The ITU Review attributes this remark to Pilch "after taking a turn on the San Rafael picket line."

Since the strike began, inflammable liquid has been thrown through the windows of the homes of several employees. I-J trucks have been sabotaged and otherwise damaged, approximately 100 tires on I-J vehicles and employees automobiles have been slashed, and nearly a dozen death threats have been telephoned to I-J employees or muttered to them by pickets.

Nearly every window in the I-J building at Fifth and B streets in San Rafael has been smashed. Graffitti has been regularly sprayed on the walls with paint cans.

Bomb Explodes In Belfast; Protestant Police At End

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—A bomb exploded in Belfast and fighting broke out between police and Roman Catholic youths in Londonderry today following a ceremony marking the disbandment of an all-Protestant B-Special police force.

No serious injuries were reported and only one arrest was announced.

The 8,000-member B-Special police long have been regarded by Northern Ireland's Roman Catholic minority as a symbol of suppression and brutality. The volunteer group will be dissolved formally April 4.

The bomb that went off in Belfast early today blasted the corrugated iron window covers off a closed pub 20 yards from a British army post.

The Londonderry, British troops clashed with rival gangs of Catholic and Protestant youth late Sunday and early today. The troops used riot shields for protection against Molotov cocktails, rocks and bottles. They herded the Catholics back into their Bogside housing district and kept the Protestants out of the area.

I-J's Ancestor Started 109 Years Ago

he fed, clothed and housed in return for work.

One of the first locations of the Journal was in a building adjoining the Marin Hotel on Fourth Street between B and C streets. Barney, his father and the apprentice cooked, ate, slept and printed the Journal there for years.

San Rafael then boasted the elder Barney's butcher shop, two livery stables, two saloons, two hotels and about a dozen homes.

That year the ruins of the old Mission San Rafael Arcangel were leveled by a carpenter buying the building for its timber.

The first San Rafael public school opened for 25 students at Fourth and E streets and San Quentin Prison housed 571 inmates.

News of the Civil War that ignited three weeks after the Journal's beginning was carried to Marin three times a week by hard riding Pony Express horsemen. (This news was printed both in English and Spanish with the Spanish translation gradually fading away.)

The day preceding the firing on Fort Sumter April 14, 1861, Barney wrote in an editorial: "We are glad to know that the citizens of Marin almost to a man are for the Union and the Constitution."

The Journal reported murders, drowinngs, floods, shipwrecks, supervisor meetings and prison escapes for the county's ranchers, vaqueros, storekeepers, woodchoppers, brickmakers and boatmen.

Barney kept a sharp eye on Marin's progress, commenting in an editorial Feb. 15, 1862 the county "has been wholly neglected by those in power. ...we know, for it has little or no postal facilities, no public roads or bridges or any account and although the county is free of debt it is also free of all public buildings and public improvements. ...

"The people are to blame, for the people elect their managers or rulers."

But if the county was not growing fast enough for Barney, the Journal was. In 1869 its five column spread was increased to six columns and upped to seven on the Journal's 10th anniversary.

The following year Barney sold the Journal to Simon Fitch Barstow. The new publisher had been seasoned as a newsman in the 1850s under James King of William on the San Francisco Evening Bulletin. A reporter working in the city then had to be as handy with his fists and a gun as with a copy pen.

King of William was later gunned down by an underworld character against whom he was crusading.

The face of Marin slowly began to change. A dairy industry was born and boomed. Millionaires arrived, building homes in San Rafael and the Ross Valley. Railroad ties were laid across the county

The Journal Publishing Co. bought Barstow's weekly in 1881, changing the banner to the Marin Journal. It was to remain a weekly except for a brief stint as a morning daily in the early months of 1948.

Three rival weeklies sprang up in Marin in the last 20 years of the 19th Century—the Tocsin, San Rafael Sun and Evening Journal. All three slipped quietly out of existence.

But another weekly started at the turn of the century—the San Rafael Independent—survived and became the Journal's biggest rival in the early 1900s and by 1927 was being published daily.

The Independent-Journal banner first appeared in Marin almost 22 years ago on Nov. 30, 1948. It ushered in a new era in county newspapering.

California Newspapers Inc., owners of the San Rafael Independent since 1937, purchased the financially troubled Journal.

Under the leadership of publisher Roy A. Brown and coowner Justus F. Craemer, California Newspapers board chairman, the I-J grew matching the county's post World War II expansion.

At the time of the merger Marin's population stood at 85,000. Combined circulation of both papers was 13,000 copies.

Today almost 44,000 copies of the I-J are delivered to 70 per cent of the homes of Marin's more than 200,000 residents. About 700 copies are also delivered in southern Sonoma, where the I-J opened a Petaluma bureau in the fall of 1968.

Marin's and the I-J's growth were triggered by three factors: Opening of the Golden Gate Bridge in 1937, residents brought into the county by Marinship and Hamilton Air Force Base during World War II and the population increase in California in the last 20 years.

During the last decade world, state and regional news reporting has been added to the I-J's countywide coverage.

Discussion On Park Funding Is Postponed

Discussion by the board of education of the San Rafael school districts' contributions to the city's parks and recreation program has been postponed until April 14.

The San Rafael Board of Education was to discuss the use of school facilities and the $25,000 annual grant from the two school districts at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Supt. John F. Plank said the matter was postponed at the request of the parks and recreation department.

The board will consider a recommendation that modular-type scheduling be established at San Rafael High School for the next school year. The system would allow for a more flexible use of time, Plank said.

A contract with the Marin Sanitary Service for garbage and trash collection will also be considered by the board. The schools now handle their own trash disposal.

Driver Fractures Foot In Accident

Charles Marshall Evans, 23, of Brighton Avenue, Bolinas, suffered facial cuts and a fractured left footbone when the southbound car he was driving veered off Shoreline Highway, two miles north of Upper Bolinas Road, at 12:30 a.m. yesterday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers hadn't completed the investigation, but noted that Evans had said he had been asleep. He was treated at Marin General Hospital. The car was registered to Louis G. Pepper of Bolinas, officers said.

A new multi-million dollar plant has been built around the converted ice house at Julia and B streets that was office and shop of the San Rafael Independent.

Both Brown and Craemer died in the spring of 1966 shortly after completion of the new plant.

Their places were taken by their sons, Wishard A. Brown as publisher and Jack C. Craemer as editor and co-publisher.

Today is Monday, March 23, the 82nd day of 1970 with 283 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1775 Patrick Henry told the Virginia Convention, "I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death."

In 1933 the German Reichstag gave Adolph Hitler "blanket power" for the next four years.

In 1942 Japanese-Americans were moved from their Pacific Coast homes to relocation centers as a wartime precaution.

In 1966 a blizzard swept through the midwest, killing 32 persons.

A thought for the day: Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "A friend is a person with whom I may be sincere. Before him, I may think aloud."

Two Injured When Car Brakes Fail

Two persons were injured Friday in San Anselmo when the brakes on their car failed and the driver turned into a tree on Luna Lane rather than continuing down the hill and into traffic on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo police reported.

The driver of the car, James Ford, 27, of 20 Luna Lane, Apt. 3, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for mouth cuts. His passenger, Seretha Pittman, 24, of Apt. 1, same address, was treated for a cut forehead and ankle bruises.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Removing Dummy's Trumps Too Soon Could Spell Disaster

The ordinary citizen knocks on wood or throws salt over his left shoulder to ward off bad luck or banish evil spirits. The bridge player draws trumps. We can't explain why we do it; we just feel safer in a world full of demons. We may lose an alarming number of our contracts, but remember how seldom you read that some bridge player of your acquaintance has been snatched by the goblins.

RUFF HEARTS

South ruffed the second round of hearts and struck a blow against evil spirits by drawing all of West's trumps. Then, with the feeling of a man who has done his share to protect the community, South led clubs to force out the ace.

Back came a heart, and South had to use up his last trump. South could run the clubs, but West saved the ace of diamonds and a heart as his last two cards. Down one.

SKEPTICAL PLAY

If you're skeptical about evil spirits you would easily make four spades with the North-South cards. You wouldn't be in such a hurry to draw trumps. You may not fear the goblins, but you do fear the enemy's hearts.

After ruffing the second round of hearts you lead the queen of diamonds. If West naively refuses the trick, you can draw trumps and knock out the ace of clubs. You will lose the last trick to the ace of diamonds, but you have already stolen your diamond trick.

CAN'T FORCE

If West takes his ace of diamonds promptly, he cannot force you to ruff another heart in the South hand. Dummy's lowly deuce of trumps takes over the job of stopping the hearts. If West returns a diamond or a club, you gain the lead quickly to draw trumps.

South does not intend to ruff hearts of his own in the dummy but he must save dummy's trump to ruff a heart if an opponent leads that suit. Removing dummy's trump too soon is like opening the door to the enemy and urging them to make themselves at home.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
S- A K Q J 5 3
H- 6
D- K Q
C- K Q 5 4.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades (forcing to game).

Some experts would bid only one spade for fear of getting to a bad slam if partner has something like the king-queen of hearts and one side ace. The danger of missing a game is probably even greater, and a forcing bid should be used to avoid that danger.

Pleads Innocent

Robert Michael Cooley, 19, of Mill Valley, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana when arrested March 4 in Tamalpais Valley. A preliminary hearing was set Wednesday for April 21.

Belvedere-Tiburon Candidates' Night

The League of Women Voters of Southern Marin and two Tiburon Peninsula groups will sponsor a candidates' night for city council hopefuls from Tiboron and Belvedere at 8 p.m. April 2 in Reed School auditorium.

Tiburon candidates, seeking three seats at the April 14 election, are stockbroker Alvin R. Kuhn, architect R. Gary Gray, landscape architect M. Carlisle Becker, television engineer Donald L. Batten, attorney Albert H. Sennett, a member of the city planning commission, and incumbent Branwell D. Fanning.

Belvedere contestants, vying for two council positions, are architect Allan Steinau, Beaturice S. Mann, a member of the city's parks and recreation commission, municipal investment consultant Vernon E. Perry and food broker Willard G. Pittman.

Tiburon candidates, appearing first, will be asked their stands on downtown planning, regional cooperation and major community problems. Belvedere's aspirants will be queried on flooding problems, joint planning with Tiburon and prime community issues.

Moderator will be Marin supervisors Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. Also sponsoring are the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Council and the Belvedere-Tiburon Friends of the Library.

Modern Dance Talk

Trends in dance and education will be discussed by Ann Halprin of Kentfield, founder of the Dancers' Workshop of San Francisco, and author and editor George Leonard at a benefit for the Marin Dance Co-op April 7 at 8 p.m. at the Sausalito Art Center on Nevada Street.

Convicts Used In Garbage Halt

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Convict volunteers under police escort have been set to collecting garbage accumulated during a week-long strike by public works department employes.

Mayor Sam Massell called the convicts out Sunday with a promise of time off their sentences after firing an estimated 1,400 striking employes who failed to meet his Friday deadline for going back to work.

At a Sunday rally attended by some 300 strikers, members of their families and supporters, union leaders threatened to tighten their picket lines today and hinted at a boycott of merchants and public transportation.

Tom Evans, a leader of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employers, AFL-CIO, said: "If we get no money, we can't buy goods or ride buses. If the business community wants our money they'll have to tell the city to give it to us."

Women Voters Propose Mental Health Evaluation

An evaluation of mental health services in Marin will be one of the programs proposed for 1970-71 at the annual convention of the League of Women Voters of Central Marin April 28 at the Holiday Inn, San Rafael.

The study would cover legislation on mental health, the roles of various agencies involved in services and investigation of existing facilities, according to the convention report by Mrs. James W. Good, president.

Also proposed for study during the year will be local zoning ordinances and how they relate to long-range planning, including preservation of open space and moderate income housing.

It also will be proposed that the league continue to support a balanced transportation system, both inter-and intra-county; equality of opportunity for access to housing; and implementation of a county wide manpower development program and comprehensive long-range master planning which would result in a coordinated plan for all Marin.

Along with adopting a program for the year, the league will elect a first and second vice president, a treasurer, and five directors.

New York Papers Face Strike Threat

NEW YORK (UPI)—Local unions representing printers and mailers on New York City's daily newspapers voted Sunday to strike if present negotiations fail to produce a new contract by midnight next Monday when the old one expires.

The votes authorized the International Typographical Union (ITU) executive council to set a strike deadline and to determine which newspapers belonging to the newspaper publishers association of New York City are to be struck if negotiations break down.

Association members are The New York Times, the Daily News, the New York Post and the Long Island Daily Press. The strike authorizations were the first two given by any of the nine craft unions and the Newspaper Guild of New York City negotiating simultaneously with the publishers association, Fairchild Publications and the Morning Telegraph.

Typographical Local 6 voted 475 to 4 to authorize the strike after their president, Bertram A. Powers, reported a lack of progress on union wage and fringe benefit demands. Members of aMilers Local 6 voted 102 to 1 to authorize a strike.

Negotiations were scheduled to resume today.

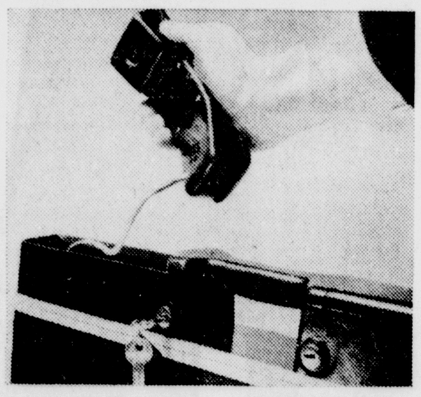
A new, completely portable telephone which is briefcase size can be used virtually anywhere. Utilizing radio frequency, communication is possible between the portable unit and a land-line telephone, or between two portable units.

Newest Communications System Miniaturized to Briefcase Size

Carry a smart, handsome briefcase—called the VOX-XXI—and make or receive telephone calls any time, any place. The complete portability of the VOX-XXI means that instant communication is now possible from any car, boat, golf course, construction site, even walking down the street!

The VOX-XXI is not unlike the "mobile" telephones that have been used in automobiles for years. Telephone companies throughout the country provide special mobile operators who connect the mobile phone user with any number desired, anywhere in the world. Car telephones have been restricted to only one or two channels (lines), but VOX-XXI users have the benefit of all 11 channels and can use their telephones anywhere they go.



Handset is an integral part of unique, durable slim-line case. Simply lift the handset to receive or place calls; case does not have to be open.

One would be hardpressed to find an area in the U.S. where a mobile operator wasn't available for VOX-XXI communication. A simple touch of a red button on the attractive handpiece brings an operator on the line as far away as 30—40—50 miles and even further over water and flatland areas.

The antenna is hidden out of sight in the lid of the space-age designed case, and when a user finds himself in a remote area, or in a heavily steeled building, the antenna "telescopes" up for maximum efficiency.

The VOX-XXI is designed and engineered by Airtronics, Incorporated, an electronic laboratory whose staff has played important roles in shaping some of the nation's major aerospace systems. The VOX-XXI is an outstanding example of commercial application of space technology.

The VOX-XXI is owned by the Bell American Corporation, Johnson Building, Fourth and C, San Rafael. Telephone: 457-1042. VOX-XXI is presently being introduced in this area. For additional information you may use the coupon below.

Solid-state circuitry, miniaturization and transistors are utilized to produce a total communications system—FM transmitter and receiver, decoder, antenna, rechargeable nickel cadmium batteries—that will provide years of dependable service. Total weight is only 12 pounds!

NATO Probe Now In Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The first North Atlantic Treaty Organization communications satellite has been shifted into a near-stationary orbit 22,300 miles above the Pacific Ocean by the firing of a payload motor.

A U.S. Air Force ground station sent a radio signal to trigger the firing Sunday night. The burst kicked the NATO-1 satellite out of an elliptical orbit that extended from 170 to 22,700 miles above the earth.

The satellite was launched into that preliminary orbit Friday from Cape Kennedy.

For the next month, ground controllers will fire small jets to gradually maneuver NATO-1 eastward to its planned permanent post 22,300 miles above the Atlantic, where it will serve as a communications link for NATO members.

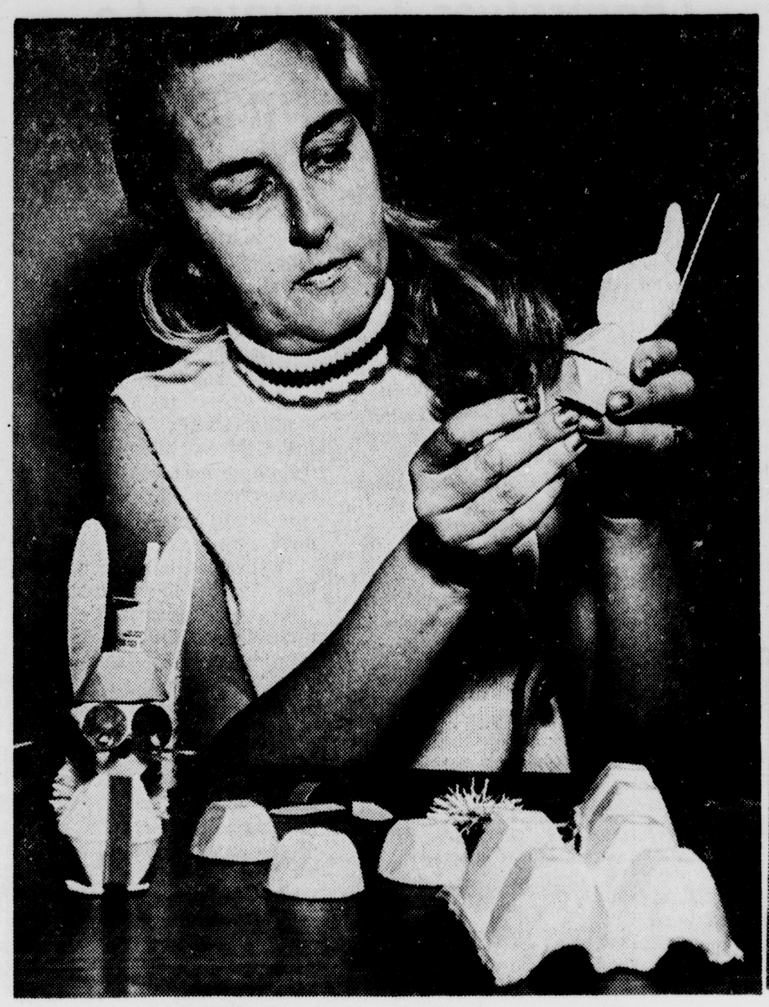
EGG-CARTON bunnies and ducks are lined up and ready for some Easter morning action. They were made by Marin YWCA Boutique Artisans and will be sold tomorrow at Scout Hall in San Rafael. Mrs. Ronald Branch, assistant program director of YWCA, checks an ear glued to a bunny made almost totally of egg cartons.



AN EASTER bunny starts this way. Mrs. John Hartnett glues egg carton cups together to make the body. They are then covered with a coat of sealer and painted. Ears or bills are attached, making the body into a bunny or duck.
(Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

THE BOTTOM of a half-gallon milk carton is transformed into an Easter basket when covered with gummed paper tape and strips of egg carton to give it a basket weave finish. Mrs. Louis Toulon examines a finished basket decorated with an egg carton bird.

Which First, Egg Carton Or Bunny?

Don't throw away your empty egg cartons. Save them for me.

This is what members of the Marin YWCA Boutique Artisans have been saying to neighbors and friends for months. The group has been creating a parade of imaginative creatures from this easily available source of paper mache.

Birds, chicks, rabbits, table favors and Easter baskets are among the items to be featured at the YWCA Spring Boutique and Puppet Show sponsored by the group tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Scout Hall, Second and A Streets in San Rafael.

Easy and inexpensive to make, these do-it-yourself items belie the fact that they were originally part of an egg carton.

Rabbits are made by cutting four cups from the bottom half of an egg carton. Using any of the white glues on the market which become transparent when dry, glue two of the cups together to form a hollow sphere for the head. The other two cups are attached in the same way to make the body which is then glued to the head. The addition of ears, snowshoe shaped feet, cut from the flat cover section of the egg carton, and a hat complete the construction.

A coat of sealer is then applied to form a smooth base over which acrylic paint is used to add the desired color. When dry, large pink sequin eyes and gold paper whiskers glued to the face, and bits of ribbon and a bright feather on the hat add the finishing touches which give the rabbit a bewitching personality.

This basic body construction becomes a chick, duck or bird with the addition of wings, tails and bills.

Baskets are constructed by cutting the bottom from a half gallon milk carton. The box is then covered with gummed paper tape (the kind used for wrapping packages for mailing.) Strips of egg carton, again cut from the flat cover, are glued to the sides to give a basket weave finish. Add a strip for the handle, and the basket, after a coat of sealer, is ready to be painted with acrylic colors. Filled with paper grass and decorated, the result is a pleasing container for brightly colored eggs.

The YWCA Boutique Artisans, according to Eleanor Wolfe, director, and Mrs. Ronald Branch, assistant program director of the YWCA, meet on the first and third Friday of each month, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., at Scout Hall. With the completion of the Spring Boutique and Puppet Show, the proceeds of which will be used to further YWCA services throughout the county, the group will turn its attention to the holiday season.

Child care is available for pre-schoolers.

EQUALITY NOW

Victorian Myth Of Woman Goes On Into The Space Age

Second in a series on woman's image and her new bid for equality.

By BARBARA HOSMER

The old saying, "Ladies first," is part of the hokum that underlies the myth about women in America which has persisted since Victorian times.

Women have come in a poor second ever since time began, charge the women active in the renewed movement for women's equality. Worst of all, they say, is that women themselves have swallowed the myth for so long despite what they know deep down.

The image of woman as submissmissive, pure, delicate, never aggressive, demurring graciously to the superior male world, a virtuous guardian of family morals, was devised by Victorian society to keep woman "in her place"—at home, states University of Wisconsin history professor William O'Neill in his new historical study on the feminist movement, "Everyone Was Brave." And women's myth of delicacy inspired by Victorian society has carried over in an "oppressive domesticity" in the 20th century, he says.

Despite the fact that women had always been expected to spend long hours leaning over the washboard, mopping floors, lifting and toting the children, kneading bread and serving the meals, they were believed delicate.

And today, though they may mow the lawn, haul the groceries, scrub walls and floors, shove the furniture around, hold down an eight hour job and come home to clean house, cook and serve the dinner, wash the dishes and bathe the kids, the myth of female delicacy persists.

PSPCHOLOGISTS — male — have traditionally defined woman's inborn traits to suit the needs of a masculine culture — women are sentimental, emotional, interested in trivia, passive.

The Victorian lady was supposed to be of delicate constitution, subject to "the vapors," too pristine to allow an ankle to be seen. Fashion wrapped her in yards of heavy material and constricted her in unbelievable corsets. She was not to venture far out of the house, and then muffled in bonnet and shawl. She was to decorate the home with herself, make pleasantries and brew tea. That she also reared a large family and did a horse-sized load of work didn't bother the image at all. All but a revolutionary band of feminists believed it.

Getting the vote in 1919 changed the image but little. But the New Girl of the Flapper era bid for freedom by bobbing her traditional long bound-up hair, chopping off her hemline scandalously high for the first time, binding her bosom and carrying on in a defiant, unladylike way. Society thought the Flapper was doomed to burn for all her reaching out from binding tradition and gleefully participating in a sexual revolution that is intensifying even today.

But the depression had a sobering effect and skirts came down. Then World War II took many of the men away and changed the female image to Rosie the Riveter in coveralls doing war work and heroically tending the home fire till he returned. Skirts went to knee length again to let women get

HELEN HELP US!

Banquet Food Is Uniformly Lousy And Cost Is Not Tax Deductible

DEAR HELEN:

We have been to three so-called banquets this month—those command appearances where if you don't show up, you get raised eyebrows. One honored a retiring company executive. Another was an awards dinner, and the third a testimonial for our football team.

So fine. We don't mind going out for a worthy cause, but we don't appreciate coming away hungry. These dinners are almost never less than $7 per person (not including the tab for the happy hour). They're worth about $1.50. They aren't fund-raisers so we can't deduct for charity.

But we should, for the food is uniformly lousy. I've even been served hamburger patties. If steak is advertised, you can bet it's dry, tough, tiny, and cold. The service is as bad.

Restaurateurs evidently figure they have captive diners so they can make triple profits. Yet these same restaurants serve tremendous individual dinners at under $5. How come? — PLENTY IRKED

DEAR P.I.:

Good question. Perhaps restaurateurs will cook up a batch of answers. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My family says I should consult a counselor to get straightened out. They don't see it's all their fault. They care nothing about me, ignore me, never pay attention to my illnesses. The doctor is no better. He can't find anything wrong, when I know how miserable I am.

They complain because I watch television all day and don't get things done. Why should I, for these ungrateful people? I've been used and discarded, and they just go their merry way. . .(Note: On like this for 10 whining pages which end): My husband told me yesterday I enjoy feeling sorry for myself. How cruel can he get? I may yet spend a lot of his money for a psychoanalyst just to prove him wrong. — CAST ASIDE

DEAR CAST:

Your husband is more honest than cruel, if I'm any judge of letters.

Bishop Sheen has said, "If the pain of washing the skillet is greater than the pleasure of eating the meal, it isn't worth it." Let's paraphrase his words: If the pain of knowing yourself is greater than the pleasure of self-pity, psychotherapy is wasted effort. You must be ready for help before you'll benefit from it. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

There has been a cute little puppy hanging around our house. No one claimed him. Our children feed him, but I made it clear they couldn't keep the dog.

We have a small yard, and I an not an animal lover. I did give it a try once for the sake of my family, but no one bathed or housetrained the pup. He was a disaster and I ended up on tranquilizers. We sold him to unknowing victims three years ago.

I put my husband and children's happiness first, but another dog? That darn, eager, grateful little puppy has wiggled his way into their hearts, and he's sitting on the doorstep waiting his destiny. Give me strength, Helen. — DOG HAUNTED.

DEAR D.H.:

Sorry, I'm fresh out of strength. That eager, grateful, wriggly little puppy is going to win, and you know it. And remember: Dogs have good and bad personalities, just as do humans. Perhaps this time you've found a winner. — H.

Women Themselves Continue To Believe The Impossible Image

on with the business of work and to save material for the war effort.

THE WARTIME image of woman was that she would hold down her job for the duration and step aside when GI Joe came marching home to do his rightful work. Domesticity seemed a heavenly dream to both men and women weary of the disruptions of a dreadful war, and the whole female myth of the post-war 40s and decade of the '50s consisted of the ultra-feminine efficient wife totally immersed in her modern home, rearing a tremendous crop of healthy children in a sweep of enlightened maternalism.

Girls married younger and had more babies, while hubby strived to junior executive status in his Ivy League gray flannel. Hemlines went down. Domesticity had caught up American womanhood to the point where it wiped out college sophomore classes and reached down to high school level, nearly putting the wedding march on the Hit Parade.

Business boomed as advertisers peddled the homebody myth and families consumed babythings, appliances and furniture. Women belonged at home with the children—it was good business and she loved it.

Housebound super-domesticity began to take its toll of American women in a generation of restless, bored women who secretly felt themselves failures to the blissful image of satisfied creators of the happy home. Isolated, feeling their talents wasted, charged with Momism and nagging, American women were ready when in the early '60s Betty Friedan scored with her book, "The Feminie Mystique." They found they were not alone in their misery and they had a champion.

SURVEYS SHOWED women's neuroses tallying in higher rates of alcoholism, psychiatric disorders and their supercared-for children rising in a James Dean style brooding revolt and piling up juvenile delinquency statistics.

Scared, unsure and still feeling guilty at their "failure," women began to talk timidly among themselves about their "lack of fulfillment." Accustomed to looking to authorities, they attended seminars on "the Woman Question," seeking a new definition of image, only to be told again and again that "woman's role is changing; women should re-examine their role." Women's image grew blurry.

Betty Friedan urged wives to educate themselves and get jobs. Publications began to focus on the successful home manager-educated woman who also did significant volunteer work as the ideal. And society agreed that some outside-the-house volunteer effort was all right. Perhaps even a full-time job was okay as long as the home front was never neglected, and whenever there was a family crisis woman was to rush home and stayed there as long as needed to set matters straight—perhaps years. Thus, the new image, despite the fact that by 1962 one third of the American labor force was women.

The American wife was expected to rush home from volunteer work, modeling in a charity style show or the office to play the role of the composed wife greeting her husband with his martini followed by a candlelight gourmet dinner and then whisking the gleaming children off to Scout meeting. This unrealistic role demanded an always smiling, demurring good listener type, a well-groomed paragon of virtue who was allowed to do a little office work as an "outlet" and because it added a little to the family income. She was also to be the glamorous playmate her husband read about in Playboy and saw on glossy television commercials—an object who was programmed to perform certain functions for others. That the male role was also unrealistically demanding in dominance didn't help the divorce rate any.

EVEN NOW, though skirts hove zoomed up and she's been called a nagging shrew neurotically overpowering children and husband, the American woman is expected by society to play her second-class almost invisible role left over from Victorian times—subserviant to male wishes, non-competitive, charmingly hair-brained about worldy matters, the keeper of virtue, always glamorous and young, seen but not really heard seriously, sentimental, trivia-minded, totally responsible for the children. "Femininity" as defined by men is still the basic measurement of womanly success in this persisting Victorian myth.

"You've come a long way, baby," jingles the television set. "Oh, no," responds the new wave of feminists, only the trappings have been modernized a little. They point out that women are still expected to play unrealistic roles, do servant work, take second rate jobs and be satisfied, remain unassertive, shuffle and say "massa" by demurring to male opinion, smile no matter what, and always "let the man win."

"The American Dream is for men only," read the signs they carry.

Harrassment For Collection Purposes Being Investigated

By ARTHUR E. ROWSE

WASHINGTON — The agency with jurisdiction over telephone service in the District of Columbia and across state borders has begun an investigation of the use of the telephone to collect bills for magazine subscriptions.

The Federal Communications Commission acted as a result of a request by Rep. Fred B. Rooney (D-Pa.) who has been investigating complaints about magazine solicitations for more than a year.

In a letter to the FCC, Rooney said:

"It is routine policy of these sales agencies to badger and harass for collection purposes the subscribers who have discovered they were deceived and attempt to cancel their contracts.

"Subscribers have been threatened with law suits, bad credit ratings, jail sentences, embarrassing disclosure of unpaid debts to employers, friends or neighbors, and in one case, a threat of deportation unless payments were resumed.

"In the latter case," said Rooney, "the calls forced a family in Virginia to abandon their home on certain days each month to escape the harassment. . .I have had complaints of calls made as early as 5:20 a.m. and as late as 2 a.m."

According to Rooney, magazine collection agencies blanket the country with special-rate long-distance service called WATS, for Wide Area Telephone Service. This service allows a firm to pay a monthly rate for continuous long distance calling for less than the cost of separate calls.

A former employee of such an outfit told Rooney that several shifts of collectors manned a bank of WATS lines calling subscribers in 20 states at all hours of the day and night, often with repeat calls to the same persons.

Most recipients of these calls had stopped monthly payments because of some disagreement over terms of a long-term contract to buy magazines. Rather than adjust such complaints, the usual practice is for these sales agencies to forward the name to a collection outfit.

Persons who get such phone calls usually resume payments regardless of the legitimacy of their complaints. They don't realize that the threats of law suits are rarely ever fulfilled, and they forget that they have probably paid for twice as many magazines as they have received. Most subscriptions are for 60 months and payments are spread over 30 months.

Few persons also realize that it is a violation of FCC regulations for interstate telephone service to be used "in a manner reasonably to be expected to frighten, abuse, torment or harass another (person)."

It is also a violation of federal law for interstate calls and a violation of law in every state for calls solely within a state.

FCC officials say that telephone companies generally have cooperated in moving against such abusive practices but that the phone companies are not often notified of such incidents by the general public.

If you feel that you have been harrassed or threatened over the phone, fight back. Write your complaint to your local telephone company, and send a copy to the Common Carrier Bureau of the FCC, Washington, D.C. 20554.

Doctor Arrested On Abortion Violation

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Police raided an abortion clinic Friday and arrested five persons including a doctor who had said he expected to be arrested for challenging California's abortion laws.

Police Chief Edward M. Davis said the department plans to make other arrests.

Police identified those booked for investigation of violating abortion laws as Dr. John Gwynne, 28, Harvey Karman, 46, Margaret Cameron, 20, Peggy Lee Grau, 18, and Sue Becker, 19.

Since Monday Gwynne has invited public attention to the free West Los Angeles clinic, which he says is supported by donations and the women's liberation groups.

Gwynne told a newsman earlier this week: "If I don't get arrested I'm going to be disappointed. I want to take this to court and beat it. I'm not here to do a tremendous number of abortions."

He told newsmen he has done several abortions this week.

California law permits abortions if a doctor certifies that childbirth would harm a woman physically or if two psychiatrists declare that it would endanger a woman's mental health.

Gwynne and Karman, a volunteer psychologist at the clinic, contend that the law drives many women to dangerous, undercover abortions, sometimes self-administered. They hope to see the law declared unconstitutional.

Legislation is pending in the state Senate that would remove all restrictions against abortion except that they be performed by a doctor.

Gwynne has said that he'll continue to perform abortions if freed on bail.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR EASTER

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at The Emporium Shape Shop, All 8 Big E's. See them now.

Man Is Saved From Possible Leap Off Span

A 29-year-old Palo Alto man who told officers he was a psychologist seeking a patient who might jump off the Golden Gate Bridge was stopped from jumping himself Saturday night, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said that Walter Charles Reed II of 250 Curtner Street, Apt. 14, Palo Alto, told bridge officers he had received a call from a patient and was going to try to stop him.

Reed's car had been noticed near the north end of the bridge with a suicide note in it, and Reed himself later was found over the east railing at the south end of the bridge at 10:45 p.m.

When his cigarette lighter failed an officer offered to give him a light and when he did he and other officers grabbed Reed and hauled him to safety. Reed was taken to San Francisco General Hospital for observation. He reportedly was despondent over family problems.

Hitchhiking Trio Robbed At Gunpoint

Three hitchhikers were robbed of about $16 cash and personal possessions Friday afternoon by armed robbers who had given them a lift, sheriff's deputies reported.

The robberies occurred near Sausalito and Corte Madera within a half hour of each other and appeared to be the work of the same men, deputies reported.

John R. Dorsey, 25, of 631 Main Street, Sausalito, reported he was picked up in Sausalito at about 2 p.m. by three young men who offered to give him a lift to San Francisco.

Instead, he said, they took his wallet containing about $1 to $1.50 at gunpoint, and dropped him off along Highway 101, near Fort Cronkhite.

At about 2:20 p.m. George Dalton Allen, 18, and Gary Charles McCauley, 18, both of Coquill, Ore., reported they were robbed of about $15 cash, suitcases and sleeping bags, by two men, fitting the same description and car.

The Oregon youths said they were given a lift at Gate Six, Waldo Point by two men after one of the men got out of the car there. When they were along Highway 101 northbound in Corte Madera, one of the men pulled out a gun, took their belongings and left them alongside the roadway.

Loyalist Forces Crush Coup In Congo Republic

KINSHASA, Congo (UPI) — Loyalist troops in the nieghboring Congo Republic today crushed a coup attempt by a group of 30 rebel soldiers who seized Brazzaville Radio and announced the ouster of President Marien Ngoubai, an avowed Marxist.

Reports from Brazzaville, across the Congo River from Kinshasa, said the leader of the abortive coup, identified as Lt. Kikanga was killed by loyalist troops with tanks who recaptured the station.

"We control the entire situation," a man identifying himself as Ngoubai told a Parish radio station by telephone.

The rebel soldiers took Brazzaville radio at 5 a.m. (11 p.m. Sunday EST) and announced the replacement of Ngoubai's Marxist government with a provisional regime. They said the president had been arrested but was safe.

Appeals for military help from such neighboring nations as Gabon, Chad, the Congo and the Central African Repbulic went out over Brazzaville Radio under the rebel soldiers before the station went dead at 7:45 a.m.

A man who said he was the republic's foreign minister, Oxence Ikonga, told a newsman in Parish by telephone that loyalist troops had ringed the station with tanks and had captured it in a brief fight.

"We did not retake the building immediately, because there were civilians working inside and we had to take care not to kill our own citizens," he said. "Now the rebels have been eliminated and the situation has become normal."

The rebel leader, Lt. Kikanga, was said to have fled the republic after being condemned to death for subversion in 1969. Bu he returned to engineer the abortive takeover attempt.

Shooting could be heard in Brazzaville from Kinshasa. Some of the insurgents were reported wounded.

Mill Valley Dog Dies Of Poisoning

A Mill Valley woman's dog died Saturday, apparently the victim of intentional poisoning.

Karen Snyder of Ethel Avenue told police a veterianarian's report indicated the dog was fed food laced with strychnine. She said the dog was fed the food in the area of Ethel and Throckmorton avenues.

Marijuana Admitted

Robert Otto Husler, 20, of San Francisco, has pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of possessing marijuana Feb. 14 in Marin. He was to appear in superior court this afternoon for setting of a sentencing date on the felony charge.

Man, 22, Is Found Dead In Lagunitas

Bruce Stewart Butte, 22, of 209 Railroad Avenue, Woodacre, was discovered dead of a self-inflicted head wound Friday afternoon in Lagunitas, reported Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan.

Butte was discovered in his pickup truck at 4:35 p.m. near Spring and Mountain View avenues, by a friend, Lou Sue Sellars of Mountain View Avenue, whom he had been visiting.

He apparently shot himself with a .22-caliber pistol, Madigan said, reporting he had left a note saying the "situation was too much."

Butte had been employed by I and M Shell Service station in Mill Valley, Madigan reported. He was the son of Bruce Butte, San Francisco commercial artist, and a native of Seattle, Wash.

Surviving are his wife, Francesca and son, Felix, both of Oxnard, Ventura County; his father, Bruce, of San Francisco; his mother, Mrs. Phoebe Deignan of Mill Valley; a brother, Bruce W. Butte Jr. of Los Angeles, and one grandparent.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Cremation will follow and there will be private inurnment at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Property Tax Relief Top Issue

Seven candidates for the state Senate and Assembly served notice that property tax relief is the hottest issue in education when they met for a candidates' day at the Civic Center Saturday.

The candidates also fielded questions on the right of teachers to strike, compulsory arbitration between teachers and school boards, electing the state board of education and appointing the superintendent of schools, and publishing statewide test results in the news media.

They will compete in the June 2 primary for seats from the Fourth Senatorial District, which includes Marin and Napa counties and a portion of Solano County, and the Seventh Assembly District, which includes Marin and a portion of Sonoma County.

The meeting was sponsored by the League of Women Voters and 14 Marin educational organizations and coordinated by Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools.

Assembly candidates participating were William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, the incumbent, and Joseph A. Forest, a Democrat from Novato.

Republicans vying for their party's nomination for the senate were Peter Behr of Mill Valley, Hugh O. Pessner of Greenbrae, and Don Pinkerton, mayor of Fairfield in Solano County.

Democrat Michael R. Peevey of San Rafael and American Independent Party member Esther Anne Smart of Larkspur are unopposed for their parties' nominations.

Republican Raymond H. Shone of Nicasio, a senate candidates, and assembly hopeful Glen Bernd of Sebastopol, running on the American Independent Party ticket were unable to attend and submitted statements read by Frances Compton of the League of Women Voters, who moderated.

Each candidate was given five minutes to respond to five questions concerning his views on education. Each spent the majority of the time on the first query about property tax relief.

Without exception they supported shifting some of the tax burden off the shoulders of property taxpayers.

"The pocket is empty," Mrs. Smart told the 30 assembled in the supervisors' chambers. "About 70 per cent of the land in the state isn't taxed. I know this is an unpopular position, but I don't believe in exemptions of any kind."

Bagley agreed that the burden should be directed away from property owners, and explained how Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax reform package is intended to accomplish this.

"The governor's proposal would shift $700 million away from this taxpayer and take up the slack through increased sales tax and a smaller increase in state income tax, since this latter was raised recently," he said.

Bagley said that "this is not meant to be an educational finance bill, but a tax relief measure. We're trying to achieve real tax equalization."

Behr said the tax system "must be overhauled so that no more than 50 per cent of the cost of education is carried by property taxpayers."

Most of the candidates echoed Pinkerton's statement that "the state will have to look for new means to support schools."

Peevey suggested this be done by "greater state aid to local schools and by closing tax loopholes."

He said that loopholes such as the oil depletion allowance, the capital gains deduction and tax-free foundations all exist on the state level and "are depriving us of $400 million in tax revenue each year."

But Bagley disputed this, saying that "the depletion allowance only involved $25 million each year. The legislature has to walk the line between eliminating the allowance completely and incurring the wrath of industry, or reducing it by half and compromising."

Another question concerned changing the state law so that members of the state board of education would be elected and the superintendent of public instruction would be appointed by the board. The superintendent now is elected and the board appointed.

Pessner and Pinkerton said they saw no reason to change the present system. The others said they would like to see the change made, except Peevey, who wanted both the board and superintendent to be appointed.

Behr said appointing the superintendent "would take the office out of politics, where it has been wallowing for some time."

The five-minute limit left most of the candidates little time to respond to the last three questions. Most said they saw no reason to publish in newspapers the results of statewide tests.

Peevy and Behr said teachers should be allowed to strike, but both said conditions should not be allowed to deteriorate to the point where a strike would be necessary.

The others said they didn't approve of teachers striking. Mrs. Smart and Pinkerton said they thought teachers were "the most professional of professionals" and should be above such tactics.

Most candidates skirted the question about changing the state's Winton Act to provide for compulsory arbitration in cases of impasse between teachers and school district boards.

Pessner expressed the most common feeling when he said he didn't like the word "compulsory" and that "talking in good faith" should make compulsory arbitration unnecessary.

Funds For College Paper Are Frozen

Funds for the Sonoma State College newspaper have been frozen until the publications policy commission can review past editions that have shown a growing trend toward militancy.

President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr. suspended the funds Friday and called for a commission meeting as soon as feasible. Members said today that a meeting will not be held until early next week since the college is closed for spring vacation.

The newspaper edited by Stanley DeWitt had frequently carried militant slogans such as "Smash the State" and "All Power to the People."

Editorials and opinion columns in the past two editions have carried out that theme including a parody on the Bank of America statement deploring the violence that took place at Isla Vista.

The version in the newspaper, Steppes, noted "fraud and genocide are the seeds of corporate capitalism. The Bank of America finances cultural warfare around the world."

The article also applauded the students who burned the bank building. "Let us retaliate against those that oppress us. To this end we applaud the courageous response of the dedicated revolutionaries in Isla Vista and Vietnam. All power to the people. Smash the capitalism."

Commission member Robert Lipman said he expected that De Witt would be fired at the commission meeting. When he was appointed by the commission as spring semester editor, De Witt had promised to refrain from printing articles of inflammatory nature.

Past editions of the Stepps has been criticized by the state Board of College Trustees for using four letter words, commentary on drugs and pictures of nudes.

Evidence Of Sewage In Two Water Bodies

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Overwhelming evidence of sewage pollution in the vicinity of Corte Madera Creek and San Rafael Bay has been found in a state study asked by the San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The board's staff recommendation that all sewage wastes be barred in these two bodies of water, and in Richardson Bay, will be heard by the board at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday in the Marin Civic Center.

The study by the state Department of Public Health seconded the regional board staff recommendation that sewage discharge pipes be extended into deep water — a costly project that would confront Central and Southern Marin taxpayers with sharply increased burdens.

The study, released today, found pollution similar to that found in Richardson Bay in a department study issued two weeks ago and reported in the Independent-Journal.

The study found that pollution levels generally were increasing near discharges from San Rafael Sanitation District, San Quentin Prison and Ross Valley Sanitary District.

The count of fecal bacteria in shellfish, the study found, ranged to more than 140 times the acceptable limit for human consumption.

Of the three discharges, only the Ross Valley district was found to be providing adequate disinfection by meeting the regional board's present requirements, the study said. The requirements do not protect shellfishing, however.

Citing the use of the waters for swimming and sailing, the department recommended "immediate improvement" in treatment, operation, maintenance and surveillance by the three dischargers.

The discharge in the San Rafael Channel, opposite Loch Lomond Harbor, "failed to meet water contact sports standards," the report said, adding that swimming in the harbor was common.

It also blamed "a serious public health threat" to shellfishing from overflowing of raw sewage from the San Rafael system, raw sewage from small boats, disposal of "inadequately treated" effluent from the main San Rafael plant, and overflowing of septic tanks.

(The San Rafael district's consulting engineer, John Jenks, said in February that he did not believe there was any violation by the district that "was significant in regard to the water quality of San Francisco Bay or has due significance to the public.")

The report also noted damage to a shellfish bed, noting that "dredging operations at Loch Lomond Harbor are suspected of causing the shellfish die-off."

The repart recommended that all dischargers be required to extend their outfall pipes to a point east of a line between Paradise Bay and Point Can Pedro, and that all discharges be barred from all vessels west of the line.

Transit Board's Grant Help Asked

Marin County Transit District directors will meet at 8:30 a.m. tomorrow in the board of supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center to discuss a request by Marin County Transit Systems Inc. of Marin City that the county support its application for federal and private foundation grants.

The Marin City firm, which operates the feeder bus service to the Tiburon ferry, seeks federal and private grants for planning of a feeder bus-ferry bus system for the entire county.

The meeting will precede the regular session of the board of supervisors.

Two Hub Youths Arrested In Countywide Auto Thefts

A countywide series of auto thefts and garage burglaries may have ended with the arrest of two San Anselmo youths, police officers said today.

Booked into Marin County Juvenile Hall Friday were David Robert Deming, 16, of 216 Los Angeles Boulevard and James Lewis Dondero, 15, of 150 Knoll Avenue, both on suspicion of possession of stolen property, auto theft and burglary.

According to San Anselmo police, the two were observed driving a station wagon lacking a rear license plate on Butterfield Road near the Rutherford area. When stopped, police said, the two youths tried to run but were told to return to their car.

Police said a large cache of automobile enginer-parts and tools was noticed by the investigating patrolman, David Oliver who held the boys for questioning.

Contacting other Marin police departments, the San Anselmo department determined that the items in the rear of the vehicle had been stolen in 14 separate burglaries, during the last month.

While no value estimate of the property has been determined, the items include oxygen and acetylene tanks and torches, grease guns, welding hoses, tire rims, transmissions, hubcaps, powerbrakes and numerous engine parts.

Police said the vehicle the teenagers were driving was also stolen and was powered with a stolen engine and transmission.

Service Is Extended By Busing Firm

Extensions and revisions of commuter and shopper bus service in Southern Marin were announced today by Marin County Transit Systems Inc.

The Marin City-based company has been operating the service, aimed largely at feeding the Tiburon-San Francisco ferry, since early last month.

Effective today, service was added connecting Bel Air, Reedlands, Little Reed Heights, Tiburon Hills Estates, Hawthorne Terrace, Marinero and Red Hill to the ferry service.

Routing in the Strawberry area was extended to Meda Lane, Richardson Drive and Reed Boulevard.

The Paradise Drive service was discontinued because of he lack of patronage.

The Mill Valley bus service was extended to Tamalpais Valley via Shoreline Highway, and to speed service, this bus no longer will stop east of Highway 101.

Tomorrow, the Mill Valley commuter runs will be serviced by the company's new 48-passenger Mercedes-Benz bus in a "Red Carpet" service.

Effective next Monday, midday and weekend bus schedules will increase their frequency from one each hour and 20 minutes to one each 35 minutes throughout the day. Connections will be added to Tamalpais High School from Tamalpais Valley, Mill Valley and Strawberry, both mornings and afternoons.

20-Year-Old Takes Purse From Woman

A 20-year-old Mill Valley man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday on suspicion of strong-arm robbery after he allegedly knocked down a Brisbane woman picketing the Independent-Journal and attempted to steal her purse, San Rafael police reported today.

Held in lieu of $6,250 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today was Craig Arthur Ford of 150 Manor Drive.

According to police Ford knocked down Leonore Ardis Mangold, 59, on Fifth Avenue between A and B streets at 4:50 p.m. Ford fled without Mrs. Mangold's purse after other pickets began hitting him with their signs, police said.

Ford was found by police a short time later standing in a doorway at the old Courthouse building in San Rafael.

Mrs. Mangold was later treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital for her injuries.

Phone Company's Tower On Agenda

A controversial proposal by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to construct a 63-foot microwave relay tower in San Rafael will again be considered by the city planning commission at 7:30 p.m. tomorroow at city hall.

Action on the telephone company's request for subdivision of the property at 2000 Bayhills Drive and for a use permit was postponed at the commission's Feb. 24 meeting.

The commission will also consider requests for use permits for a Northgate branch of Bank of Marin, a group care facility for lower income elderly persons to be operated by the Roman Catholic Welfare Corp. at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, a service station at 1401 Second Street, and a Holiday Magic warehouse and office complex at 529 Jacoby Street.

Woman Reports Attack Is Made

A 23-year-old Sausalito woman told police she was raped about 11:45 p.m. Friday by a youth who grabbed her as she walked north on Bridgeway and threatened her with a knife.

According to police, the woman said her assailant came up behind her, took her arm, pulled a knife and forced her to accompany him to the yard of an apartment building in the 200 block of Woodward Avenue.

She told police he attacked her after tying a handkerchief over her eyes, then fled the scene. The woman sought aid at the apartment building, then notified police.

She described the youth as between 19 and 20 years old, slender build, five feet, seven inches, to five feet, nine inches tall, clean-shaven with wavy, collar-length dark brown hair and brown eyes. He was wearing a navy blue turtleneck sweater and blue jeans, she told police.

Parents Invited

Redwood High School counselors have invited parents and other members of the public to attend a discussion on the counseling department's functions at 8 p.m. March 31 in the school's faculty lounge.

GOP Group Sets Island Outing

The Marin Republican Council will hold its annual Angel Island picnic on May 23.

Beverages will be provided by the council, with ferry service from Tiburon at 10 a.m.

You Can't Teach An Old Bridge Board New Tricks

The truth of timeworn adages is ever being proved anew.

We have in mind two of them:

"You can't teach an old dog new tricks."

And: "The leopard can't change his spots."

Both were proved anew last week by the Golden Gate Bridge District board.

OVER THE YEARS, the bridge district board's penchant for operating like a private club, ignoring the public it is appointed to serve, has periodically brought it under attack from the press, the legislature, and the public itself.

Over the years, each time some new members have been added to the board, the Independent-Journal has hopefully greeted the new era, ever anticipating improvement in the bridge board's attitude.

We became especially hopeful—almost confident, in fact—when, as a result of the most recent legislative attack, the board membership was expanded and quite a few fresh faces appeared on it. Our hopes were further enhanced with the appointment of a new general manager who showed his interest in meeting and even anticipating public demand, instead of insisting that nothing must be changed from what it was when the bridge opened in 1937.

But alas! We forgot about those time-worn adages.

LAST THURSDAY, it came to light that the bridge board, during a closed session on "hiring personnel," had created a new executive committee of some sort, for some unannounced purpose, which since then has been meeting in secret without announcement.

When an Independent-Journal reporter demanded to know what the secret committee was all about, pointing out that state law specifically forbids such secret committees, he was told by chairman Ben K. Lerer that "it's none of your goddamn business."

Aside from this sounding more like the language of some yippie militant than like that one would expect at a public meeting from a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, the remark shows how little the bridge board has changed over the years.

'WAY BACK on Dec. 19, 1940, when the district was yet young, this lead appeared on an editorial in the San Rafael Independent:

"That must have been quite a spectacle at a meeting of the Golden Gate Bridge directors when the chairman of the board twice ruled a fellow director out of order because the latter insisted upon discussing the spending of the people's money, then ordered another director, who desired to discuss his fellow director's right to speak, to sit down."

Manners on the bridge board were bad then, too, it seems.

WE WOULD HAVE thought that by now, having been raked over the coals so many times by press, public, and legislature, the bridge directors would have awakened to the fact that they are public officials—not directors of a closed corporation.

We would have thought particularly that Joseph E. Sheeks would have known better from his days when the Mill Valley City Council got its come-uppance for secret meetings in San Francisco than to indulge again in any such shenanigans. But he is a member of Lerer's super-secret committee.

Maybe Tom Storer was right after all. Maybe the bridge board is beyond reform. But we still hope not.

Walsh Bill Seeks To Lessen Woes Of Small Businessman

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Problems of the small businessman have multiplied to a great extent in the past few years, and so far, no state government agency is doing anything to relieve them, according to Sen. Lawrence E. Walsh, D-Huntington Park.

As a result, and at the urging of an organization known as the United Business League, Walsh has introduced a bill, SB 646, to create a California Advisory Commission on Small Business Affairs.

Although there appears to be quite a bit of pressure against creation of new government agencies, in this case justification can be established, as it is a fact that the small businessman is fast becoming the "forgotten man".

THE SMALL businessman (the independent operator who hires 20 or fewer employees) is the constant target of government harassment in many fields—particularly in the tax field, where the multipicity of forms and requirements, rules and regulations, render the chore of making a living highly onerous.

The commission proposed by Senator Walsh would be composed of 15 members appointed by the governor, with four representing the consumer, and 11 representing small business.

The bill further specifies that no member of the advisory commission would be a practicing physician, surgeon, attorney or a member of any other state-licensed profession.

Procedures for accepting complaints regarding unfair trade or business practices would be set by the commission.

"Complaints", said Walsh, "may be in the area of unethical practices of consumers, of employees, or of other businesses which prey upon small business, or any other practices that may be considered detrimental to smaller operators."

THE COMMISSION would also gather information from public and private sources on any unfair trade or business practices.

Walsh said the sponsoring United Business League is composed of some 4,000 small businesses throughout the state.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Execution Of Dog Found Shocking

I was shocked to read the article in March 17 paper in connection with the "Humane Society" putting to sleep a beautiful purebred Siberian husky.

This dog came into my yard also and I could see he was clean, well kept and someone's pet. As he was such a gentle animal, it is difficult to believe that someone did not either claim him or want him during his stay there. This dog must have been brought to Marin from some other area. In such a case, seven days is too short a time for proper identification of ownership.

Job Openings —And Yet No Job

Dr. Robert L. Oxford's letter to "What Our Readers Say," March 17, gives one the impression that he has misinterpreted the views expressed in the article "Saga of a Black Marin Job-Seeker." Possibly, the article did not clearly convey the points we wanted to make. Possibly, Dr. Oxford very mistakenly got the impression that I just sat at home blissfully waiting for Marin County to have mercy on my black soul.

What I protested to in the article, was the fact that I was invited to come in for interviews, in which case, the positions had not been filled. The prospective employers never failed to be impressed with my resume, and not one of these persons gave any hint that they felt I had an atrocious personality. What then, could have been the problem?. . .

As far as my being too "good" to commute — my husband works nights — he gets home not in time for me to get to work, and also get our son to a place to be taken care of. Even if this was not so, why should I have to commute if there are jobs in Marin County, and I am perfectly qualified for a number of them?

Our son and his private school: I think, Dr. Oxford, that the word "private" has you hung-up. A few facts: This school is the only one around here that opens at an early hour and closes late. This school cost us less than most public schools — we checked. Our son attended the San Rafael's Children Center for a while. The going rate there, for him, was $25 per week; $100 per month. This "private" school cost us $75 per month, flat rate. . .Besides, this "private" school is really a very good school, insomuch as our son is actually learning something other than how to make paper airplanes. . .

I sincerely hope this letter brings peace to the minds of those who felt that I was asking for something that I was not qualified to receive.

Parents Should Look At Selves

"To thine own self be true. . ."

Earnest and well meaning parents look in vain for solutions to help their children wise up to the futility of involvement in the drug scene. Perhaps a little introspection might reveal the sad realization that many parents themselves are caught up in a drug-oriented society revolving around a circuit of cocktails, tranquilizers, cigarettes, No Doze and aspirin.

Escape at any price! With a cocktail in one hand and a cigarette in the other, can a parent with any degree of integrity issue a command to his adventure-seeking offspring, "Thou shalt not smoke marijuana!"

Remember the words that the bard, Mr. Shakespeare, puts into the mouth of Polonius as he bids farewell to his son Laertes: "This above all — to thine own self be true; and it must follow as the night to day, thou canst not then be false to any man." (Hamlet.)

What we do speaks louder than what we say.

Students Assess Sonoma State

We are juniors at Sonoma State College, and wish to take further issue with your "Editor's Notebook" of March 7.

It is blatantly obvious to concerned students at this school that editor (Jack) Craemer has been grossly misinformed. The "serious accusations" of his human sources (a "cross-section"?) are biased opinions at best.

The editorial said the college is not being used to the fullest extent, that classrooms designed for 50 students are less than half full in most cases. Actually, standard classrooms can perhaps hold 35 to 40 students; upper-class and graduate seminars must necessarily be limited to 25. Almost all classes the past two semesters have been over-enrolled. . .

Due to the tremendously inadequate housing situation within five miles of the school, most students must come considerable distances, and various departments have been gracious to students and faculty in scheduling less 8 o'clock classes. . .

Mr. Craemer believes Sonoma State is under-enrolled; with only 2,500 students "the college could easily enroll an additional 500 students by fuller utilization. . .". Present enrollment at Sonoma is nearly 3,400, and in the fall this figure will approach 4,000, with no new classroom facilities. . .

The removal of Dr. (Ambrose) Nichols as president via direct pressure from the State Board of Trustees was a loss of a most responsive educator and administrator who is able to sort realities of the educational system in this state from the hash fed to the public by Reagan, Rafferty, and your paper. To appoint a president in the mold of S.I. Hayakawa, as suggested, would be a big step in a negative direction.

Finally, too much blame has been passed on to largely constructive radical and militant elements, whose lists of priorities should be considered the most relevant to the well-being of all peoples. . .

Redundant Words In Pledge To Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands. One nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Millions of Americans like myself learned the above in school and have it tucked away in our minds as a guide to our democracy.

Recently I had occasion to review this pledge. The term "justice for all" seems to me to be questionable. The words "for all" imply there can be justice for some but not others, when in fact if it is not for all then it is not justice.

Tranquility Not Around Corner, But Many Things Going Right

By ROSCOE AND GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—Important things are going right with the world.

The era of negotiation which President Nixon foresaw as the mark of the '70s is beginning, and confrontation is being reduced.

TRANQUILITY is not rushing to embrace us but war and the danger of war are being erased at four crisis points in the world:

1—The painful and perilous civil war in Nigeria is over to the great advantage of the nation and its people.

2—The tense confrontation between Turkey and Greece over Cyprus is receding. though a stable agreement remains a delicate and difficult achievement, it seems clear that war within NATO is being averted by the responsible actions of both Greek and Turkish governments.

3—Former President Sukarno's phobia to crush Malaysia is totally abandoned by his Indonesian successor, President Suharto, who is visiting Kuala Lumpur to seal the peace.

4—U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam is proceeding steadily.

All of this isn't the greatest, but it is a considerable agenda of good work.

AS TO NEGOTIATIONS, at no time since the end of World War II has the diplomacy of the adversary nations been so constructive.

1—The United States and Red China are in closer contact than at any time since the Communists came to power.

2—Since Moscow won't accept a united Germany, West and East Germany are discussing ways to live together more productively.

3—Poland and West Germany are settling their long lacerated border disputes to pave the way to closer economic relations.

4—Moscow and Bonn are nearing agreement on a nonagression pact with the expectation that West German credit and technical know-how for Russia will follow.

5—A Big-Four meeting on Berlin is being scheduled.

6—The United States and the Soviet Union will shortly resume their crucial arms-control talks and, while a meaningful agreement will be a near-miracle, the very fact that these talks are in progress is proof that something good has been added.

THOSE WHO HAVE been closest to the U.S.-Russian arms negotiation are convinced that the next stage of the talks in Vienna will take place in thesame favorable atmosphere that prevailed in Helsinki. Some senators who all along approved any development of the ABMs argue that only if we take some unilateral disarmament steps to sweeten the talks will the Russians allow them to succeed.

This wouldn't help negotiations one bit. The Russians are continuing to develop their ABMs and their new, more powerful offensive missile — the SS-9—and will continue to do so until a mutual stand-still and possible reduction are reached by firm negotiated agreement. If the United States starts to cut back unilaterally prior to agreement, Moscow will just wait for more such actions, and reliable disarmament will be further delayed.

FORTUNATELY both sides have equal incentive to reach agreement — the urgent need to turn some of the heavy and useless cost of the arms race into meeting domestic, peaceful needs.

The latest study by the U.S. Arms Control Agency's Economics Bureau, headed by Robert H. D. Wade, an assistant director of the agency, shows how great this incentive is:

World military spending reached a record $200 billion last year, up 44 per cent since 1964— a total of $1 trillion spent on arms and armed forces in the past six years alone.

The rate of increase has dropped a little, but by the end of the '70s, global arms spending, unless checked, will amount to $300 billion a year. And that is equal to all the present tangible wealth of the United States — all the land, homes, factories, highways, minerals and other real assets.

The Soviet Union and the United States can do nothing better for themselves and the world than to find a way to end the arms race.

All Is Lovely In Vietnam: Foreign Aid Folk Say So

By JOHN HALL

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Some Americans have been laboring under the impression that the Vietnam war is ruining South Vietnam and has not been too healthy for the Vietnamese.

But for the past several weeks, senior American advisers in Vietnam have come back to Washington with reports that the war, hell that it is, is going to produce some nice benefits that one does not regularly hear about.

A RECENT witness before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was Donald G. MacDonald, the foreign aid nanager in Vietnam.

MacDonald reports that the 1970s should be an "exciting decade" for South Vietnam. The government in Saigon, which some have labelled repressive, is achieving "rapid social change in the midst of war" and is building "a better place in which to live, not at some distant time, but today and tomorrow."

MacDonald, furthermore, says South Vietnam "will inherit from the war years...a large reservoir of literate manpower, trained to comparatively high levels in diverse military-civilian technical and management skills," not to mention "first class seaports, warehousing facilities and excellent major road arteries." The Southeast Asian nation, he says, has achieved "a breakthrough in mass education that many countries at peace in the world are yet to begin," and "during a period when it was swamped by the problems of caring for refugees and the war injured it nonetheless embarked on programs to develop a capacity to deliver health services to all Vietnamese."

AMBASSADOR William E. Colby, who runs the American political advisory program in Vietnam, says he sees "a new spirit in the countryside."

"The roads are open to many markets and, from the air, tin roofs sparkle throughout the countryside where families are once again tilling their long abandoned farms." Colby told the committee.

Colby says there are statistical measures to show how much progress the South Vietnamese are making "but the real difference can only be experienced by driving on the roads, by visiting the markets, and by talking to a 12-year-old schoolgirl who informs you that she is again attending school in her village after a three-year period in which none existed."

MacDonald says the primary school system in South Vietnam now has some 40,000 Vietnamese teachers instructing 2.3 million Vietnamese children in 32,000 Vietnamese classrooms, using 16 million Vietnamese textbooks.

THERE IS ANOTHER statistic.

This year, the United States —for aid alone —has poured $498.5 million into Vietnam and now pays for 53.4 per cent of the country's budget — not even counting military expenditures and the uncounted millions paid for Colby's pacification program.

The Big Topic At Civic Center: Why Is Zucker A Candidate?

The big news last week, and possibly for the whole election campaign, is County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker's startling announcement that he's running against John F. McInnis for supervisor.

At first glance, this looks like another classic example of an untried underdog, attempting to oust an established civic leaer with years of public service.

Zucker may be an underdog, but not quite the underdog that a lesser known person might be. He doesn't have to start from scratch, trying to sell his name to the public. He's already well known, partly because of the celebrated hearing held last April when Supervisors McInnis and Louis H. Baar tried unsuccessfully to fire him.

Whereas another candidate would have had to spend most of the campaign getting voters to recognize his name, Zucker gets off to an even start with McInnis, as far as public exposure goes in the First District.

SPECULATORS at the Civic Center are wondering: "Why in heck would Paul Zucker want to risk his professional career here by running against his boss?"

In other words, what chance would a young employee with little or no experience in politics or public office have against one of the ablest politicians in the country? Isn't he afraid of his job?

The only explanation we can give is that Zucker either (1) feels so strongly about the need for new leadership, he is willing to risk everything, or (2) his services are in such demand elsewhere that he doesn't have to worry about his next job, win or lose, or (3) a combination of both.

THE WAY Zucker has conducted himself at public hearings and at the personal hearing when his job was at stake marked him as a man with poise and the courage to stick by his guns. Like McInnis, Zucker proved articulate, sometimes stubborn, but always in control of his emotions.

So, instead of a boy going up against a man, or a scared clerk running against his boss, we get the image of two heavyweights, more or less evenly matched. Even supporters of chairman McInnis will probably concede he is up against a formidable opponent. It's not going to be a shoo-in by any means.

ANOTHER FACT that keeps coming to mind are the many upsets that have marked local races in recent years. Ernest Kettenhofen, the man who had accomplished the impossible by defeating William Fusselman, seemed to be headed for a sure re-election two years ago when Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. ran against him. Arrigoni's landslide victory was a stunner. Goes to show the effectiveness of a well-organized campaign, with hundreds of enthusiastic volunteers willing to ring doorbells and spread the word by phone and circulars.

Those who have signed Zucker's papers are almost all from the Lucas Valley area where he lives. At the top is E. Jack Schoop, active in the Marin Council for Civic Affairs in the past, and active leader in the American Institute of Planners. Others include Larry Cahn, William B. Reiner, and Betty Forry—all of Lucas Valley and Marinwood. Mrs. Forry is former chairman of the state recreation commission. Reiner is one of two men that the Lucas Valley Council recommended for appointment to the county planning commission when McInnis served notice he would not re-appoint Dr. William F. Upton.

Theft Of Candles Denied In Court

Alan Steven Glogovsky, 22, of San Anselmo, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to charges of grand theft and burglary stemming from the theft of over $200 worth of candles and holders from the Colonial Sales Co. in San Rafael last May.

A preliminary hearing was set for April 7.

Glogovsky was arrested when stopped for speeding in San Rafael Friday. The officer discovered there was a warrant outstanding for him.

Join The Club, Bank Of America —Though Late, And Timorous

On the night of Feb. 25, at 8:30 p.m., the Bank of America woke up.

In Isla Vista, Calif., one of their branch banks was burned to the ground. Rampaging demonstrators, hooligans and assorted riffraff had set it ablaze, protesting against the "capitalist establishment".

Right now, the bank came alive—sort of.

Buying full page ads in the newspapers, their clarion call to arms was sounded in the finest Caspar Milquetoast tradition.

CLEARLY, the Bank of America people don't know how to get good and sore, or if they do, they don't know how to show it. I got the impression they had suddenly been roused from their slumber with a hotfoot and their righteous indignation had all the zing of a wrist slap. They carried on from behind their grillwork about violence, destruction, anarchy and tyranny as if it had all just come about at precisely 8:30 p.m. on the night of Feb. 25, in the little town of Isla Vista, Calif.

"All of us, young or old, liberal or conservative," sputtered the bank, "have for too long been silent on the issue of violence."

WHERE HAVE YOU been all the time, Bank of America?

A whole lot of voices have been raised against violence in the past few years. Perhaps you have been silent—but don't lump the rest of us with you—not all of us!

"We have been afraid of labels or slogans that would brand us as either arch conservatives or traitors to a liberal cause."

Maybe you have been afraid, Bank of America, and you thought others were too. Many have spoken out, many have said it like it is—without fear, with outright courage and some even with a mushrooming anger!

Your anger—and you have every right to be angry—is a bit too timorous, too tepid for me. I'd have hollered a great big yippee had you come right out and laid it on the line, shown you were blistering sore. I'd have tipped my hat, shook your hand and said, "You're my breed of cat, yessiree! You B of A people are a no-fooling-around crowd!"

BUT INSTEAD you whimpered, "Participants in the violence say it was a protest against the 'capitalist establishment,' 'the war in Vietnam,' 'the Chicago trial,' 'student repression,' 'police brutality,' and a list of other grievances against America in 1970. Some of these grievances are real, some are fanciful and others are false. But all deserve to be aired. To the degree that they are not aired, are not taken seriously, Americans break faith with their young."

Now that's gutsy stuff, huh? Makes you want to stand up and cheer.

Why didn't you tell the bums that their grievances, real, fanciful or false, do not deserve to be aired if they intend to do it by the light of one of your burning banks?

Well, it's OK, Bank of America. We're glad to have you aboard anyway. Better late than never. It won't be easy, but maybe we'll make a fire-eater out of you yet.

Court Overturns Death Penalty On Leo Robles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A death penalty ordered for a San Quentin inmate convicted of slaying a fellow prisoner has been reversed by the California Supreme Court.

Acting on an automatic appeal for Leo Estrada Robles, 24, the tribunal held Friday that a lower court had erred in letting him conduct his own defense during a penalty trial.

The court said that there had been doubt that Robles was even competent to stand trial on the basis of limited education, speech difficulties and limited understanding of his circumstances.

While ordering another penalty trial, the tribunal let stand the conviction of Robles for killing inmate Forrest Willard Smith, who died Nov. 6, 1967, after being battered on the head and having his throat cut from ear to ear.

Section 2. The Council does hereby submit to the qualified electors of the City at said special municipal bond election said measures, and each of them, set forth in Section 1 of this ordinance, and designates and refers to said measures as the measures to be set forth on the ballots hereinafter prescribed for use at said election.

(a) Said special municipal bond election shall be held and conducted, and the votes thereof canvassed, and the returns thereof made, and the result thereof ascertained and determined, as herein provided; and in all particulars not prescribed by this ordinance, said election shall be held as provided by law.

(b)All persons qualified to vote at municipal elections in the City upon the date of the election herein provided for shall be qualified to vote upon the measures submitted at said special municipal bond election.

(c) The polls at the polling places hereinafter designated shall be opened at 7:00 o'clock A.M. of said day of election and shall be kept open continuously thereafter until 8:00 o'clock P.M. of said day of election, when the polls shall be closed (except as provided in Section 14436 of the Elections Code), and the election officers shall thereupon proceed to canvass the ballots cast thereat.

(d) Said special municipal bond election hereby called shall be and is hereby consolidated with the State of California Direct Primary Election to be held in the City on June 2, 1970, all as required by and pursuant to law; and the election precincts, polling places and officers of election within the City for said special municipal bond election hereby called shall be the same as those selected and designated by the Board of Supervisors of Marin County for said primary election and set forth or to be set forth in the notice of election officers and polling places for said primary election published or to be published by the County Clerk of said County, as required by law, to which notice reference is hereby specifically made for a designation of the precincts, polling places, and election officers of the special municipal bond election hereby called. Only qualified voters of the City shall be permitted to vote at said special municipal bond election. The Board of Supervisors of said County is authorized to canvass, or cause to be canvassed, the returns of said special municipal bond election with respect to the votes cast in the City and to certify the results to the Council.

(e) On the ballots to be used at said primary election and said special municipal bond election hereby consolidated therewith, in addition to all other matters required by law to be printed thereon, shall appear the measures, and each of them, set forth in Section 1 hereof. Each voter may vote on any or all of said measures. Each voter to vote for any measure hereby submitted and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall stamp a cross (+) in the blank space opposite the word "Yes" on the ballot to the right of said measure, and to vote against any measure and against incurring said indebtedness shall stamp a cross (+) in the blank space opposite the word "NO" on the ballot to the right of said measure, except that if and to the extent that Votomatic ballot cards are used at said elections, each voter to vote for any measure hereby submitted and for incurring said bonded indebtedness shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of said measure, and to vote against any measure and against incurring said indebtedness shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of said measure. On absent voter ballots the cross (+) may be marked with pen or pencil, except that if and to the extent that data vote ballot cards are provided for absent voters, each absent voter shall punch the ballot card in the hole after the word "YES" to the right of each measure or in the hole after the word "NO" to the right of each measure. Absent voter ballots setting forth said measures, and each of them shall be issued to qualified electors residing within the City entitled thereto, in the manner provided by law, and such absent voter ballots shall likewise be canvassed, or caused to be canvassed, by the Board of Supervisors of said County.

(f) At the next regular meeting of the Council occurring after the returns of said special municipal bond election have been canvassed, or caused to be canvassed, by the Board of Supervisors of said County, and the certification of the results thereof to the Council, or at a special meeting called thereafter for such purpose, the Council shall cause to be spread upon its minutes a statement of the results of said special municipal bond election as ascertained by said canvass.

Section 3. The Council proposes to issue and sell bonds of the City for the objects and purposes, but not exceeding the amount, specified in said respective measures if two thirds of the qualified electors voting on each separate measure at said special municipal bond election shall vote in favor of each of said measures; provided, however, that the votes cast for and against each of said respective measures shall be counted separately and, when two-thirds of the qualified electors voting on any one of said measures vote in favor thereof, such measure shall be deemed adopted and bonds of the City in the aggregate amount specified in the measure or measures which carried by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the qualified electors of the City voting on said measure or measures at said election shall thereby be authorized to be issued and sold for the objects and purposes specified in said measure or measures which received such affirmative two-thirds vote.

Said bonds shall be negotiable in form and of the character known as serial, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed seven percent (7) per annum, payable semiannually (except that interest for the first year after the date of said bonds may be made payable at or before the end of said year). Provision is hereby made for the payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds as follows: At the time of making the general tax levy after incurring the bonded indebtedness, and annually thereafter until the bonds are paid or until there is a sum in the treasury set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all payments of principal and interest on the bonds as they become due, the Council shall levy and collect a tax sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds and such part of the principal as will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied at the next general tax levy will be available; provided, however, that if said bonds are authorized to be issued at said election, and it is expected that all or any part of said bonds will be sold at such time that the principal of or interest on such bonds will become due before the proceeds of a tax levied after such sale would be available to pay such principal or interest, the Council, at the time of fixing the annual tax levy, may levy a tax in an amount clearly sufficient to pay that portion of the principal of and interest on said bonds which it is expected will become due before the proceeds of the next succeeding tax levy will be available. If the earliest maturity of the bonds is more than one year after the date of issuance, the Council shall levy and collect annually a tax sufficient to pay the interest as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal on or before maturity. Such taxes shall be levied and collected as other City taxes and shall be in addition to all other taxes and shall be used only for payment of the bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 4. The City Clerk of the City is hereby directed (a) to publish this ordinance once in full in the Independent-Journal, which is a newspaper of general circulation published in the City, at least three days before its adoption, and (b), upon the passage and adoption of this ordinance, to publish the same once a day for at least seven (7) days in the Independent-Journal, which is a newspaper of general circulation published at least six (6) days a week in the City, and such publication shall constitute notice of said election. No other notice of the election hereby called need be given.

Section 5. This ordinance shall be forthwith entered upon the minutes of the Council and in the Ordinance Book of the City. This ordinance, being an ordinance calling and ordering an election, shall take effect from and after its final passage and approval.

TV REVIEW

Belafonte, Horne Team Up Again

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A sprinkling of special programs seasoned the network schedules over the week-end, with two particularly worthy of comment.

The most fun for the viewer was the special with two big talents, Harry Belafonte and Lena Horne, complementing each other. Most interesting was a two-hour film feature on air pollution.

The Belafonte-Horne collaboration, an ABC hour Sunday night, was strictly a two-performer show, handled on a square stage of many levels and surrounded on three sides by an audience.

The stars more or less took turns singing, occasionally working together. With the exception of Miss Horne's "I Want To Be Happy," none of the numbers were familiar. There were ghetto songs, city-life songs, nostalgia songs, love songs, even a lullaby. Almost all of them more interesting for their content and presentation than for their tunes.

"A clear and present danger," in NBC's "World Premiere" series, tackled air pollution as an element of a dramatic show.

It was an interesting attempt, but came a cropper because the dramatist, like others worried about our environment, could come up with no satisfactory solution and because pollution is so much bigger than the personal conflict on which the story was hung.

Hal Holbrook played a senator's son with his own political ambitions who, upon visiting an industrial city, finds an old friend has died of emphysema, with the smoke and gas filled air of the community a contributing factor.

This kicks him off on a one-man crusade to do something about the city air.

But at the end, the concerned hero can only say: "I refuse to believe that there is no solution."

NBC apparently thinks so highly of the idea of a fearless, idealistic politican that Holbook will continue his role as one segment of "The Bold Ones" next season.

Also continued will be segments about doctors and lawyers. The portion of the trilogy involving a district attorney and a police official, co-starring Hari Rhodes and Leslie Nielsen, will be dropped.

Smothers Will Return To TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The Smothers Brothers are coming back to television in July with a Wednesday night summer show for ABC.

The announcement said they would take over Engelbert Humperdinck's 10 p.m. slot, with Humperdinck moving to Saturday night to replace Jimmy Durante and the Lennon Sisters.

The brothers, Tom and Dick, were fired by CBS last April in a dispute over censorship.

Bond Issue Size Must Be Decided

Novato city councilmen Tuesday will wrestle with the problem of how much money to ask the voters for when it seeks to pass a bond issue for purchase of the O'Hair property.

The council is undecided whether to ask the voters for just enough to purchase the land or to seek enough additional money to also develop a new community center on the land.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. in the community center.

The parks and recreation commission has asked that the council place two issues before the voters, one amounting to $2,365,000 for purchase and development of 67-acre property on Sutro Avenue and Novato Boulevard. The other would total $600,000 for a new community center on the property.

In other business, the council will get an opinion from City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. whether it acted legally in granting Sutter Hills Development Co. a use permit for a Lucky store, Thrifty drug store and drive-in restaurant at the intersection of South Novato Boulevard and Diablo Avenue.

Other items to come before the council include an appeal from J. R. Filippo for a land division at the Sundown shopping center south of Hamilton Air Force Base, transfer of an easement to the sanitary district for the Scottsdale development and abatement of a substandard house at 1010 First Street.

Purse Stolen

Melissa C. Johnson of 233 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry, reported to sheriff's deputies Friday that her purse containing $20 cash was taken from her car parked near Rock Springs, Ridgecrest, Mount Tamalpais, that day.

DIVIDE JAPAN DOUBLEHEADER

Giants Finally Break The Spell

SHIMONOSEKI, Japan (AP)—The San Francisco Giants won their first game in Japan today after two consecutive exhibition baseball losses, whipping Tokyo's Lotte Orions 6-3 in the first game of a doubleheader.

San Francisco dropped the second game of the twinbill to the Tokyo Whales 4-2.

The Giants lost 6-5 to Tokyo's Yomiuri Giants Saturday and 4-3 to the Orions Sunday. The first two games were played in Tokyo.

Winning pitcher Gaylord Perry, who worked the first seven innings for the Giants, and reliever Jim Johnson limited the Orions to four hits.

Willie Mays cracked a two-run double in a three-run first-inning outburst.

Leadoff man Bobby Bonds and Ron Hunt hit successive singles before Mays doubled.

The Giants added two more runs in the third on Bonds' double, Hunt's walk and Ken Henderson's single.

The Orions scored two runs in the bottom of the third when Perry gave up a walk with the bases loaded and shortstop Hal Lanier made an error.

Lotte scored one run in the fourth and the Giants one in the fifth.

Rich Robertson worked the first six innings for the Giants in the second game and was the loser. Miguel Puente finished up. Bob Taylor homered for San Francisco in the eighth inning.

Lanier Is NBA's First Pick

Pistons Draft Him No. 1

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Pistons opened the National Basketball Association draft today by selecting Bob Lanier, St. Bonaventure's All-American pivotman, as the No. 1 choice.

SURPRISE

After the Pistons, who finished last in the Eastern Division and won a coin flip for the top pick, selected the 6-foot-11 Lanier, San Diego's western Division tailenders chose Michigan's Rudy Tomjanovich in a surprise move.

Atlanta, the Western Division champ, who picked third after acquiring San Francisco's first round choice in an earlier trade, then chose Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, college basketball's Player of the Year.

The pick obviously was designed to try to keep the 6-foot-5 LSU All-American in the South and away from the rival American Basketball Association

HUGE PRICE

Lanier, who underwent surgery after suffering a knee injury in the NCAA tournament, reportedly already had agreed to sign with the NBA for a contract expected to exceed $1 million.

The colorful Maravich, all-time high scorer in college basketball and one of its most publicized players ever, was rumored to have okayed an ABA pact. But both he and his father. Press Maravich, who coached his son at LSU, have emphatically denied that such an agreement has been reached.

THE WINNING FERRARI

Douglass-January Playoff

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) - Dale Douglass hopes to line his pockets with 20,000 pieces of green to match the color of his wrist in an 18-hole playoff with Don January for the Greater Jacksonville Open golf title today.

Douglass, a regular on the pro golf tour seven years, has packed his three tournament victories in the past 10 months and his putter-a golfer's most valuable club-is serving him well.

As for the green wrist, he's a little reluctant to talk about it, but admits it was caused by a copper bracelet his parents gave him for his 34th birthday March 5.

"It is supposed to have something to do with arthritis and aches and pains," he admitted. "I don't know about that, but I had a sore wrist and played poorly after winning the Phoenix Open this winter."

The trouble started to clear up at Pensacola last week, where he tied for 29th place and collected $997.

"I think the wrist is better because I changed my swing," he said.

Does he have any confidence in the bracelet?

"I'm still wearing it," he replied.

January, 40-year-old veteran who restricts his tour appearances to 20 a year and hasn't been a winner since the 1968 Tournmane of Champions, does not have a magic bracelet but does bear a trademark-his collar turned up in back.

"It's strictly because I get sunburned," he said.

January roared through the final 18 holes Sunday in 66 strokes-equalling the best round of the entire tourney over the tight fairways and rolling greens of the 6,943-yard Hidden Hills Country Club.

Douglass scored 69 on the final round, and they finished the four days of regular play at nine-under par 279.

The playoff winner gets $20,000 prize money; the loser $11,400. In addition, each gets $5,000 from ABC, which is televising the finish, and a share of the gate receipts.

Tony Jacklin, British Open champion and winner here two years ago, finished third at 281 and collected $7,100. Dave Stockton was fourth with 282 for $4,700. Jack Nicklaus, finishing with 70, and home pro Dan Sikes, with 71, tied for fifth at 283 and collected $3,850 each.

Lee Trevino won $3,200 with 284; Hale Irwin and Don Bies $2,825 each at 285.

Problems For Marin Cyclists

A pair of two-man teams from Marin County encountered problems over the weekend in the dusty and gruelling 400-mile Mint off-road race for motorcycles at Las Vegas.

While Californians Mike Patrick of Pomona and Phil Bowers of Chino pocketed the winners' share of the prize money aboard a Yamaha 350, Marin riders encountered frustration and pain.

Jay deBeaubien of Novato suffered a dislocated shoulder in a crash on his Rickman-Metisse, but there was some consolation when he and co-rider Richard Lear, also of Novato, were judged the best looking entry. BeBeaubien reportedly fainted after his accident, was briefly hospitalized, then returned to the pits to watch his partner continue the race.

Meanwhile, James Thompson of Fairfax encountered a flat tire and had to struggle with it for a bulk of a 50-mile lap, losing precious time. After repairs, co-rider Jim Miller of San Rafael continued aboard the Swedish-built Husqvarna.

NOT KNOWN

Place of finish by the Marin teams was not available at press time today.

Patrick and Bowers were never in serious trouble since they led most of the way and weren't bothered by dust, completing the 400 miles in 8 hours, 53 minutes. They finished 13 minutes ahead of Californians James Martino of Los Angeles and Malcolm Smith of Riverside riding a Husquavarna 360.

J. N. Roberts of Sun Valley, Ida. and Hans Hannson of Tibro, Sweden were third on their Husquavarna.

The race was run on a brutal sun-baked course with temperatures in the mid-90s.

The four-wheel portion of the $110,000 Mint 400 off-road races were scheduled today and tomorrow.

SUPER GOALIE

Esposito Ties Shutout Mark

CHICAGO (AP)—Tony Esposito, his ears ringing from the crowd's thunderous ovation, peeled protective gauze from his bruises in the quietness of the Chicago Black Hawk dressing room and held out his hand. It was trembling.

"Sure, I'm nervous every time I'm out there—see, my hand is still shaking," said the rookie goalie who registered his 13th shutout to equal a National Hockey League record.

Tony, whose brother Phil of Boston won the Hart Trophy as most valuable player last season, had a relatively easy time with the St. Louis Blues. He was required to stop only 21 shots as the Hawks blanked them 1-0 Sunday night.

Doug Mohns' 15-foot goal at 12:19 of the last period while the Blues were short a man was all Chicago needed to stay one point behind Boston for first place in the East Division. If the Hawks can finish on top they would become the first club in NHL history to climb from sixth to first in one year.

NOW 'REAL' SEASON BEGINS

NBA Playoffs To Begin Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wilt Chamberlain's knee is healing . . . and now he's just a pain in the neck to the opposition.

Los Angeles' super center, recovering from an early season knee operation, played 42 minutes Sunday in his third comeback game and helped the Lakers topple Seattle 121-118 Sunday in the National Basketball Association's closing day of regular season play. The playoffs begin Wednesday.

Chamberlain scored 21 points and had 18 rebounds, his best effort in the comeback games.

Boston defeated New York 115-112; Atlanta spilled Detroit 130-126; Chicago walloped Milwaukee 129-115; Philadelphia hammered San Francisco 132-112 and Phoenix got by San Diego 130-129 in Sunday's other NBA action.

The Lakers fought off a fourth-quarter rally by Seattle to finish their season two games behind the Western Division-leading Atlanta Hawks.

Rookie Jo Jo White scored nine of his 22 points in the final period as Boston came from behind for the win over New York, which closed out its season with four straight losses.

Boston, the defending NBA champions, finished sixth in the Eastern Division and were eliminated from the playoffs for the first time in 20 years.

A Good Try By Versatile Jim Peters

College of Marin lost another baseball game Saturday, but the manner in which the Tars went down fighting and a heroic pitching performance by their regular catcher, Jim Peters, won cheers from coach Vic Petreshene.

"We were down 12 to 3 but still came back to make a game of it," said Petreshene, reviewing Saturday's 12-10 loss to Solano College at Vallejo, Marin's sixth consecutive Camino Norte Conference setback.

His pitching staff plagued by sore arms, Petreshene was forced to call on catcher Peters to relieve starter Mike Terry on the mound in the fifth inning, Marin trailing 10-3.

Peters, who had pitched in high school but not at all this season, responded by giving up just three hits in the remaining three and two-thirds innings. He struck out six, walked one and only one of Solano's two remaining runs was charged against him.

As if that wasn't enough from the versatile catcher-pitcher, Peters starred at bat, collecting three hits in five tries, including a home run, drove across four runs and scored two.

"What more can you ask of a boy?" said Petreshene.

"Our hitting really came to life," the coach added. "We'd been scoring two or less runs a game, so maybe this performance was an indication of better things to come."

Other Tars high on the hit parade were Rafael Gallardo with a double and single, Steve Trono and Ken Lazzarini each with two hits, Mike Locati with a double and Ken Roby with a two-run single.

Analy gained the semi-finals with a 16-0 victory over Fort Bragg.

In tonight's other semi-final it will be Rancho Cotate of Rohnert Park against Healdsburg at 8 o'clock.

A Long Season For Warriors Finally Comes To Dismal End

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors' second most dismal season has ended, and their sights were set on today's National Basketball Association draft, hopeful that it can produce something for the future.

A 132-112 loss to the 76ers in Philadelphia Sunday left them with a 30-52 record, their worst since the 17-63 in 1964-65.

EARLY DRAFT

They finished second from the cellar in the West Division, giving them an early turn in draft selections, Number 3.

As was their habit late in the season, the Warriors faded against Philadelphia after a fast start.

A second-period rally sparked by substitute Fred Hetzel put the 76ers ahead to stay. By halftime, Philadelphia had opened a 13-point lead.

The 76ers shot ahead with a 20-11 spurt that broke the game open.

SWEEP

The victory gave Philadelphia a six-game sweep of their season series with San Francisco.

The Warriors, feeling the loss of their 6-foot-11 pivotman, Nate Thurmond, lost 20 of their last 25 games, including a 127-123 defeat at Baltimore Saturday night. Thurmond underwent a knee operation and says he is thinking about retiring.

Seals Meet Tormentors Head On

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Oakland Seals will meet face-to-face with their tormentors Tuesday night when they play the Minnesota North Stars in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The Seals, after a 3-2 loss Sunday at Philadelphia, found themselves in the same precarious position they have held for the past two weeks—just behind the North Stars in a battle for fourth place in the National Hockey League West Division.

The Seals held the fourth place spot for a few hours Saturday but after a Saturday victory by Minnesota and Oakland's loss to Philadelphia Sunday, the Seals' find themselves one point behind.

While the Seals were losing to Philadelphia, the North Stars were also losing Sunday, 5-0 to Boston.

A goal by Philadelphia's John Guy Gendron early in the third period spoiled the Seals' hopes.

The Flyers started quickly and took a 2-0 first-period lead on goals by Gary Peters and Bill Sutherland.

But Oakland's Bill Hickey scored at 3:56 of the second period and Brian Perry tallied 34 seconds later to tie it up.

It was Oakland's first loss in six games.

Campy's New Way To Lead Off

YUMA, Ariz. (AP)—Home runs and effective pitching have helped the Oakland Athletics compile the best record, at 10-6, in the Cactus League.

The A's were here today for the start of a two-game series with the San Diego Padres after whacking the California Angels 7-1 Sunday in Palm Springs, Calif.

The victory was powered by homers by Bert Campaneris, his second in two days, and Joe Rudi. For the second straight day, Campaneris hit the first pitch of the game over the left field fence.

Felipe Alou's double and Don Mincher's single made it 2-0 for the A's in the fourth.

Rudi made it 3-0 in the seventh with his homer, off Rick Clark.

Clark left the game during a three-run outburst in the eighth. Campaneris opened with a double and scored on Rick Monday's single. Alou also singled and Sal Bando walked, loading the bases. Clark was relieved by Paul Doyle, who struck out Mincher. But Dick Green clouted a two-run single.

The Athletics' final run came off Wally Wolf in the ninth on singles by Frank Fernandez and Bob Johnson and Campaneris' sacrifice fly.

Jim "Catfish" Hunter limited California to four hits over the first six innings in the first two-thirds performance by an Oakland pitcher this spring.

The victory was the A's fourth in a row. The loss left the Angels at 5-9 for the spring.

NCAA Champion Bruins Really Make Their Point

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) —Steve Patterson says UCLA wanted to prove it had a great team this season without Lew Alcindor. And he thinks the Bruins made their point.

"I think we established ourselves as No. 1," he said after UCLA defeated Jacksonville 80—69 Saturday. "We proved we were five guys who could play together.

HAD TO WIN

"The season would have been a failure if we had lost the game. We had to win it.' '

Patterson, a 6-foot-9 junior from Santa Maria, Calif., said the Bruins have felt the pressure of playing in the shadow of 7-foot-2 Alcindor, who deminated college basketball from 1966-69 and led UCLA to three consecutive titles.

"It worked on the fellows, said Patterson, who played behind Alcindor, the past two seasons.

"You know, you come into a city to play and the newspaper headlines say: 'Alcindor - less UCLA.' When you see that every place you go, it works on you."

WOODEN

Coach John Wooden told newsmen all week long he did not think he had to prove himself over again without Alcindor, rumors to the contrary.

"If I had not won before having Lewis," he repeated often, "there might be some substance to the what they are saying. But I didn't think I had to prove anything."

Wooden has had 22 consecutive winning seasons at UCLA and won the national championship in 1964 and 1965, missing out only in 1966, before taking the next four.

The Bruins coach told newsmen he believed he had five teams that should have won the national championship but did not.

NEXT YEAR

Wooden also believes he will have an outstanding team next year since he loses only senior guard John Vallely. It is understood he has two equally talented young guards waiting in the wings to take Vallely's place.

Returning next season will be the tournament's most valuable player-6-8 Sidney Wicks of whom Wooden said: "I don't know of any forward in the country I'd trade for him."

Curtis Rowe, a 6-6 forward who made the all-tournament team along with Wicks and Vallely, Patterson and sophomore Henry Bibby, a 6-1 outside shooting guard, also will be back.

Wooden told newsmen the key to UCLA's latest national title was the change on defense he made in an effort to stop Jacksonville's 7-2 Artis Gilmore after the Dolphins jumped to an early lead.

PLAN

The Bruins coach said it was his plan to play Wicks in front of Gilmore but have his guards attack the ball handlers and prevent them from getting the ball to the giant center. It didn't work.

Wicks said the Dolphins beat him by lobbing the ball over his head and set Gilmore up for a couple of easy layups.

"I couldn't move him anyway," said Wicks. "But then Coach Wooden moved me behind him and Steve Patterson in front of him and we sort of pinched him."

Gilmore made seven field goals during the first 15 minutes but then went the next 16 minutes without a basket. He ended he game with 19 points.

Wicks said Alcindor had a lot to do with the way he handled Gilmore, outrebounding him 18-16 and blocking five of his shots.

"I played Lew a good bit in practice last year and he scored on me anytime he wanted to," he said. "I was a little worried because he (Gilmore) is even taller."

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

When delivering the ball, you should be square to the foul line. That is, your hips and shoulders should be equally distant while your left toe points at the target. Note, I said target; but not necessarily the 1-3 pocket. If you are a spot bowler, aim your body at your spot, not where you want the ball eventually to finish.

A 'Dream' For Marquette

NEW YORK (AP) — He is not of heroic proportions although his disciples call him "The Dream". All Dean Meminger does is win basketball games with quiet proficiency.

Coach Al McGuire of Marquette labels Meminger "my star"—and an audience of 19,500 at Madison Square Garden Saturday would have had to agree.

Meminger's star quality play-making helped Marquette put away St. John's 65-53 to win the 33rd National Invitation Tournament.

A WINNER

"Every team has to have a star," said McGuire, flushed with the euphoria of his first championship, "and Meminger is mine."

Dean picked up the Most Valuable Player trophy for his work in the tournament, but was characteristically modest.

"The whole team contributed," said the slope-shouldered, 6-foot guard. "It was a team effort."

It was a sweet homecoming for The Dream, who played his high school ball in New York.

"I've been playing basketball for 14 years," he said. "There's nothing much else to do when you grow up in an area like I did (Upper Manhattan).

"The first thing you learn is that if you learn to play basketball well, it's a passbook to a college education."

NULLIFIED

Meminger said he was satisfied with most of his game Saturday, but "I couldn't get my game together in the second half. The St. John's trap defense nullified me."

"Apprently not enough," added St. John's coach Lou Carnesecca.

Meminger was also chosen on the AP's all-tournament team along with Danny Hester and Pete Maravich of Louisiana State; Jim Oxley of Army and Rich Yunkus of Georgia Tech.

Jeff Sewell and Joe Thomas of Marquette; Joe DePre of St. John's Mike Gyovai of Army and Al Sanders of LSU made the second team.

INJURY

Maracich, meanwhile, closed out his fabulous college career by sitting on the bench with an injury as LSU lost to Army 75-68 for third place.

Maravich, college basketball's all-time scoring leader, wouldn't talk to reporters after the game.

"I've been talking to reporters all week — and I've said all there is to say," he told one sports writer. "What are you going to do, ask me about the ball game? I didn't play. I've talked to people all week — I just want to walk out with the team."

As Maravich left the dressing room and walked into the hallway with some of his teammates, a heckler yelled a derogatory remark.

KEEP WALKING

One of Maravich's teammates started to turn, but Pistol Pete said: "Don't let that bother you . . . just keep walking."

Then another newsman called: "Pete."

He turned and was greeted by a handshake.

"I just wanted to say goodbye, that's all," the reporter said.

"Thanks, I appreciate that," Maravich said, and walked out the door.

SEBRING CHAMP

Andretti Just Never Gives Up

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — He used two Farraris in doing it and for a while it looked as if he might be beaten by an actor, but Marion Andretti managed to win the wildest 12 hour endurance race ever run at Sebring.

"That looked like the end," Andretti said in Victory Lane when talking about his first car, a five liter Ferrari that went out with gear box troubles Saturday while holding a 70-mile lead with only one hour to go.

Slump-shouldered and near tears, he took over another Ferrari that had been driven by Ignazio Giunti and Nino Vacarella of Italy.

WAS THIRD

But the bright red car was running third behind a five-liter Porsche driven by Mexico's Pedro Rodriguez and Finland's Leo Kinnunen and a three-liter Porsche driven by actor Steve McQueen and Peter Revson of the U.S.

The Rodriguez-Kinnunen-Porsche was forced out with a burned wheel bearing only 15 minutes from victory.

Andretti zipped under the checkered flag 22.1 seconds ahead of the McQueen-Revson Porsche.

Third place was taken by a three-liter Alfa Romeo driven by Masten Gregory of France and Tonie Hazemans of Holland.

SLOWER

The Giunti-Vacarella-Andretti entry averaged 107.029 miles per hour for the race — nearly 8 m.p.h. slower than the Jacky Ickx-Jacky Oliver Ford GT 40 which won last year.

McQueen's Porsche won the prototype class, while the victorious Ferrari took over-all and sports car honors.

The winning Ferrari team earned more than $8,000 of the total race purse of about $75,000.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

New California Return Can Be Complicated; So Study

We have a new California Individual Income Tax Return Form 540 this year. It has changed considerably from the prior year's return and follows more or less the format of the new federal Form 1040.

If you have a very simple financial life, your tax return will consist of one piece of paper with printing on both sides, a two page return.

If your financial life is not so simple, then you will find that you have to attach schedules if you itemize your deductions, if you have dividend or interest income over $100, if you have income or loss from a business or profession, if you have sales or exchanges of property, if you have income from pensions or annuities rents and royalties, partnerships, estates, trusts or other sources, if you had income or loss from a farm, if you claim the benefits of income averaging, if you claim the retirement income credit, in each of these cases you will have to attach state forms.

ATTACH STATEMENT

If you have sick pay or moving expenses or employee business expense, you will have to attach a statement explaining the deduction. A copy of the federal form will do nicely.

Also, if Part V, Reconciliation to Federal Return, is more than one item, you may have to attach an explanation.

In many cases, you will have to attach supporting schedules of computations to these forms in order to explain the entries thereon.

BIGGEST NEWS

Perhaps the big news in California is that you get a 10 per cent reduction in your taxes under certain circumstances and not to exceed $100 if single or married filing a separate return, or $200 if head of household or married and filing a joint return.

This is not necessarily a straight 10 per cent of your tax, but is sometimes 10 per cent of a smaller figure. That is a tax computed on your income reduced by the amount of your net long term gains which were excluded from your adjusted gross income.

Confusing? Just follow each line of Part VI exactly like it says and you will come out with the right answer.

Generally speaking, the designers of income tax forms, both state and federal, spend a great deal of time and effort to make them as easy as possible. It is a source of continual wonder to me that they can take a law that is so complex and so beset with ifs, ands and buts and somehow or another get the formula down on paper so that by slavishly following each line of the return you can get the correct answer.

NOT EASY

The difrficulty is in explaining what goes on each line in clear, simple, understandable English. It's not easy.

The best source of information for the average taxpayer is the book, "Your Federal Income Tax 1970 Edition for Individuals" published by IRS and available from your local office of the IRS for 60 cents.

If you can find the item and read the explanation in here, it will give you an understanding of the federal tax position. This is usually very similar to the state of California position.

WIRED FOR MEMORY

A new, all-electric mass memory device stores vast quantities of information on a magnetic wire thinner than a human hair. Trademarked Dynabit, the device was developed by Hughes Aircraft co. It has no moving parts and is claimed to be virtually impervious to shock, vibration and temperature.

Data Systems

BROOMFIELD, COLO. (UPI)—Colorado Instruments Inc. said it has received orders totaling $1.2 million for data collection and data communication systems. The orders came from Ford Motor Co.'s general parts division in Rawsonville, Mich.; Medical Information Systems Co., Phoenix, Ariz.; Byron Jack, Inc., Los Angeles, and the University of Colorado at Boulder.

Market On Low Side In Light Trade

NEW YORK (UPI) — Despite a sharp upsurge immediately after President Nixon announced he would call out the troops to restore postal service in New York, the market finished lower Monday in light trading.

Shortly before the close the UPI Marketwide indicator was off 0.32 per cent on 1,552 issues crossing the tape. Declining issues led advances, 738 to 499. The Dow Jones average of 30 blue chip industrials, up more than a point minutes after Nixon's statement, was off 0.06 to 763.60. Volume of less than 7.5 million shares was well below Friday's pace.

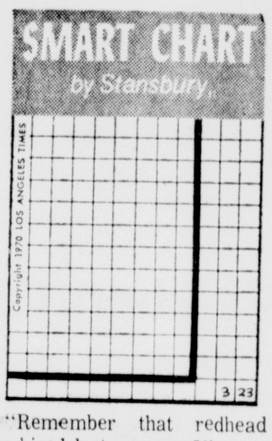
Analysts were encouraged by the market's ability to remain above the 760 level on the Dow Jones average.

Steel, chemical and oil issues generally worked lower, as did conglomerates and building stocks. Most other stock groups traded in an irregular fashion.

Among the more active issues were Great Western United, Texaco, Travelers Corp., Goodyear Tire, Panhandle Eastern Pipeline, Clorox, RCA, International Telephone and Bristol-Myers. Great Western traded a block of 88,600 shares at 18 with Goldoan Sachs representing both sides. The company reported a sharply lower net for the February quarter.

The strength in auto issues apparently stemmed partly from a statement by a General Motors official that he believed the industry has passed the low point in auto sales. He added however, that industry sales probably would not reach 9.2 million.

Prices also fell on the American Exchange in very light trading.



"Remember that redhead we hired last summer?"

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

The Shoe Colony Opens In The Montecito Shopping Center

A new shoe store that opened last week in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael is The Shoe Colony at 221 Third Street.

This is a new idea of Charles Terzian of Petaluma, who has been in the shoe business all of his working life. His father John Terzian owned the Modern Shoe Store in San Anselmo about eight years ago and when the family moved to Petaluma opened the Wide World of Shoes there, which he still operates.

The Shoe Colony features name brands of ladies' shoes at discount prices and is completely self-service. But the store, which occupies 3,000 square feet, bears little resemblance to the typical discount establishment. It has wall to wall carpeting, boutique decor and a novel gazebo in the rear for coffee drinkers. Terzian hopes eventually to have the biggest selection of discount shoes in name brands in Marin.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., with the store remaining open to 9 p.m. on Fridays.

Sisk Laskoff

INSURANCE: William L. Sisk of Novato has been appointed district manager at Equitable Life Assurance Society's Tolson Agency in San Rafael. He has been with Equitable for 18 months. . . . Alex P. Laskoff of San Rafael has been named a member of the Liberty Leaders Club of Liberty Mutual Insurance for an outstanding showing in sales..... Paul M. McKimmie of Greenbrae has received the Group Leader Award of New York Life for his sales performance in group insurance in 1969 . . . Frederick J. Santos of Novato has been cited for his 10 years with Bankers Life Nebraska. He is a life member of the company's Wall of Fame.

CASTRO LEASING CO., Corte Madera (a division of Leslie Lease Co. of San Francisco), has announced the purchase of Ames Ford Lease Co. of San Rafael. Donald J. Labbe of Larkspur, formerly lease manager for Ames, has gone to work for Castro and will be servicing the Ames accounts.

Meanwhile, the rumor persists that Ames Ford Sales has been sold. But owner Douglas Cowan insists that no transaction has been completed and negotiations must be approved by Ford Motor Co. to become valid.

WATSON N. HAARBAUER of Tiburon has been appointed San Francisco district manager for U.S. Steel Supply Division. A native of Nova Scotia, he joined U.S. Steel with the steel products division in 1948 and changed to the supply division the following year. He has been office manager for the steel service center in San Francisco since 1966.

McElroy France

MEETINGS: Robert B. McElroy of Lucas Valley and Jack R. France of Terra Linda represented Bank of California in a panel discussion at the annual Association for Systems Management spring conference in San Francisco.

Charles I (Chuck) Daniels Jr. of San Rafael, vice president and manager of Golden Gate Distributing Co., will preside over the annual convention of the California Beer Wholesalers Association in San Diego March 31 - April 4. He is president of the association. . . . Glenn Wesner, administrator of London House Convalescent Hospital, Novato, and his three assistants, Yvonne Mellor, Rosemary Berry and Lucille Hadgedon, attended a two-day conclave of officials and key workers of Hy-Lend Enterprises at Sonoma headquarters.

SHERIFFS' CARS CONFIRM DIRTY EXHAUST EMISSIONS "CUT APPRECIABLY" BY CHEVRON WITH F-310

"We have used six sheriff's automobiles and a definite improvement in the emissions has been shown. The hydrocarbons and the carbon monoxide have been cut appreciably."

This statement is from R.O. Sudduth, Director, Mechanical Department, County of Los Angeles. It is contained in his letter of March 5, reporting to Los Angeles County Board Supervisor Kenneth Hahn on the County-sponsored evaluation of Standard Oil Company of California's F-310* gasoline additive.

In a press conference March 6, Mr. Sudduth explained how the tests were run.

The cars were 1968 and 1969 models. Two from the Bellflower sheriff's station, two from the City of Commerce, two from East Los Angeles.

This was done to make sure the cars chosen were typical of vehicles subjected to all types of driving—stop-and-go, idling, long-distance and high-speed. All cars had been driven 30,000 miles or more, and had very dirty engines.

The cars had been run on their usual gasoline. They were switched to Chevron gasoline with F-310, and driven in normal service for as little as 678 miles, and as much as 2093 miles.

Careful measurements of emission levels were made before and after the test at a federal government laboratory.

The chart at right reveals the official test data from this independent research, conducted by Mr. Sudduth. It clearly confirms that both hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide exhaust emissions were cut appreciably, in six sheriff's cars, by using Chevron with F-310. Additional test work is continuing.

Independent tests are also being conducted by other State agencies on larger numbers of cars. These data should make it possible to provide an estimate of the total improvement in automotive exhaust emissions that would result from general use of F-310.
